Shidehara Expresses His Confidence in Justice from Americans

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS) TOKYO, June 24.—The Japanese murders near Los Angeles last week were in no way connected with the present diplomatic controversy over immigration between the United States and Japan, according to an official report received here today from Japanese Consul Wakauchi at Los Angeles.

The publication of the official reports today resulted in a very definite decrease in the public resentment which flared up with receipt of the first reports of the three deaths.

CONFIDENT OF JUSTICE Japan fully trusts American authorities to see that justice is done in the matter of Japanese deaths in California, Foreign Minister Shidehara declared today during interviews by Japanese newspaper men.

In keeping with this attitude no move has been made to bring the deaths to the official attention of the government of the United States, the Foreign Minister added.

The interviewers' questions followed extensive press comment on news reports of deaths of three Japanese in the vicinity of Los Angeles, Cal., and subsequent rumors that their deaths had been effected by anti-Japanese elements.

At least one of the American victims of the disagreeable immigration was a woman.

The President Madison, out of Seattle, docked as usual, and foreign passengers stepped onto the pier Japanese customs officials were in line, asking "are you American?"

Coolidge Spokesman Says America Will Not Enter Discussion Officially

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) WASHINGTON, June 24.—The United States is not only willing but anxious to assist Europe in pushing the settlement of her reparations problem but does not intend to participate in any political differences overseas, a spokesman for President Coolidge said today in commenting on the proposed Inter-Allied Conference in London next month to consider means of putting the Dawes plan into effect.

President Coolidge was said to feel that it must be recognized America has certain interests both direct and indirect but that these would not be served by official participation in the conference. This government will be represented in the conference, but no possibility was seen that either Charles G. Dawes or Secretary Hughes, who plans to be in London with the American Bar Association about the time the conference would be held, would act as American representative.

No invitation has as yet come to the American government to join the conference, it was declared.

Fire Fighters Near National Park Report Gains in Battle for Giant Redwood Forest

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) FRESNO, June 24.—A crew of more than 200 men is still battling the flames which threaten to sweep into General Grant National Park, but reports from the mountain country today indicated that the fighters were gaining on the flames and that it may be brought under control within two days.

A line of back-firing has been drawn about the fire zone in all directions with the exception of a small area on the south and southeast.

The fire is still raging within two miles of the park. On the Pinehurst side of the fire conditions are good and it is not expected that the forest will be endangered. About 2000 acres have been burned over. The fire, which was discovered Sunday afternoon in Dark Canyon, burst out of the canyon bounds yesterday and commenced to spread rapidly through the timber on a two-mile front. It burned very rapidly for a time, but was met with determined resistance at strategic points by the fighters.

A brisk wind from the west yesterday aided the flames.

At another point more than 200 men are fighting the fire in the Sierra National Forest near North Fork with good prospects of bringing it under control. The fire did not move very much last night and at one time it appeared to be under control.

Later yesterday it broke out again on the north side and is defying the attacks of the fighters. The fire, which started Sunday at North Fork, is still out of control.

RESIGNATION OF WILLIAMS GIVEN STONE AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, June 24.—United States Attorney Williams at San Francisco has tendered his resignation, Atty.-Gen. Stone announced today.

The resignation was recently called for by Mr. Stone because of "negligence and inefficiency." The Attorney-General said today it would be acted upon at an early date.

Mr. Williams had been here for several days discussing his case with officials. It is understood the formal acceptance of the resignation will be made when a successor is decided upon.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—U. S. Dist. Atty. John T. Williams admitted today that he had presented his resignation to Atty.-Gen. Stone.

"The report that I have presented my resignation is correct," he said. "Until Mr. Stone makes a statement on the situation I will have nothing to say, however. I am still my superior officer and I do not think it wise for me to say anything until he has spoken."

TWO-THIRDS RULE LIVES

Democrats Spurn Majority Plan

Convention Decision Seems Certain to End McAdoo and Smith Chances

Progressive Platform Being Framed; Ralston Gains Slightly in Favor

(BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG "Times" Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, June 24.—All hope for a change of the underlying rule in the Democratic party for the nomination of President and Vice-President disappeared today. When the convention formally opened and the great steam roller began to revolve under the impulse of old-time authority, extravagant promises that the rules would be changed and the convention would act under a majority rule instead of the two-thirds rule went glimmering. Just three votes for a change in the rules materialized.

One was from Florida, one from Utah and one from Virginia. After all the smoke and fire and claims of the tremendous demand for a change in the rules the fact was pitiful in its finality.

WRECKED TWO BOOMS But under the collapse of what a week or ten days ago seemed to be a real movement for rule revision there are two wrecks of political ambition. Neither the candidacy of McAdoo nor Gov. Arthur Smith can survive the unchangeable rules and the untidily engendered by the unprecedented personal fight between the two leading contenders for the first place on the ticket. Neither can win the two-thirds vote. Who will benefit by the debris from these deflated booms? Not even the friends of McAdoo and Smith believe that he will ever pass the maximum of 400 votes because of the Klan opposition and the religious feature which is inevitably involved in his candidacy.

Yokers in California can guess well as observers at the speaker's platform as to who will be nominated. Bryan and other veteran leaders of the party are determined that a progressive platform shall be adopted and a candidate agreed upon who will fit such a platform. He is unnamed but he has as many aliases as there are candidates.

Like yesterday the convention is stuttering and halting over candidates until the committee on resolutions has evolved its platform. No matter what is reported in this document every effort will be made to take the fire out of the candidates' arguments by being concentrated to keep the language of its expression virile but to eliminate the name and to keep the fight within the committee and off the floor of the convention. It is also expected that one of the day and were emphatically rebuffed by J. Bruce Kerner of Montana, vice-chairman of the national committee and chairman of the committee on resolutions.

Taking refuge behind locked doors from the crowds which stormed in the corridors in a last belated effort to obtain admission to the opening convention session, Mr. Kerner denounced reports of the distribution of the distribution of tickets as "ridiculous, silly and without foundation."

NEW CATHOLIC CHAPEL (EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) PHOENIX, June 24.—Formal dedication has been made of a new Catholic chapel school in the southwestern part of Phoenix, built especially for the use of Mexican parishioners and relieving congestion in the main church on Monroe street. Father Luis Pujol will be in charge of the church. A Catholic mission school has been dedicated at Blythe on the Apache Indian Reservation, near San Carlos.

OTHERS HOLD ALOOF Managers of other candidates viewing with alarm the wide breach occasioned by the McAdoo-Smith encounter in nomination efforts to remain aloof. If McAdoo himself falls of the nomination it is not likely that he can hold a sufficient number of his delegates under control to enable him to exercise a veto power on the nomination, and this uncertainty would not altogether destroy the war.

THE IMMEDIATE result indicates a definite and insurmountable elimination of Smith as a contender for the nomination. It is hoped for under the circumstances is a true in which one or both of the contending elements consent to cease open hostilities and to accept the result of the vote as a final settlement.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION LAUNCHED IN CHAOTIC SEA

Factional Bitterness Temporarily Lulled While Delegates Cheer Attacks on G.O.P.

BY KYLE D. PALMER "Times" Staff Correspondent (EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, June 24.—Pursued by the Four Horsemen of internal dissension, sectional bitterness, religious intolerance and personal animosities, the Democratic National Convention, pausing for a moment to send up a prolonged, hearty and voracious shout of approval of a keynote tirade upon the Republican administration and to give a noisy demonstration in tribute to Woodrow Wilson, was launched here today in a sea of political chaos.

Only the common political foe and the incentive for a common cause against him momentarily caused a lull in the prosecution of differences that increasingly threaten Democratic harmony regardless of the nominee and the compromise nature of the party platform. As soon as Senator Harrison of Mississippi, temporary chairman of the convention, had concluded his address a state of Republican shortcomings the applauding delegates quickly resumed their own bitter wrangles.

One side speaks defiantly of bolting the convention if the other side wins and some of the Texas delegates, annoyed by conditions, are going so far as to advance a proposition to have the convention adjourn at once and meet in another State less dominated by the elements of the party. A religious controversy more bitter and more extensive than any that has occurred in any political movement in the history of the United States is in full swing and is sweeping additional numbers along with it despite the anguished efforts of leaders on both sides to call a halt. All other issues are purely secondary and personal animosities have developed among party leaders here that appear impossible of settlement.

It seems unlikely that either McAdoo or Smith can survive this situation. The entire fight largely ignores the question of the election and was precipitated apparently by the New York contingent's attack on McAdoo as an assassin of the Klan. In retaliation for unfriendly references by McAdoo's leaders to Gov. Arthur Smith, the Klan in the Catholic Church.

Ticket Scandal Rumors Denied by Party Chief

NEW YORK, June 24.—Sensational rumors of the mysterious disappearance of tickets to the Democratic National convention, and reports that various candidates had been favored in the distribution of the much-sought cards of admission, flew thick and fast today and were emphatically rebuffed by J. Bruce Kerner of Montana, vice-chairman of the national committee and chairman of the committee on resolutions.

Taking refuge behind locked doors from the crowds which stormed in the corridors in a last belated effort to obtain admission to the opening convention session, Mr. Kerner denounced reports of the distribution of the distribution of tickets as "ridiculous, silly and without foundation."

NEW YORK, June 25.—Warning that the Ku Klux Klan fight will be taken to the floor of the Democratic National Convention unless the platform committee names it as such in the party platform it is to draw, was given to the committee early today (Wednesday) by spokesmen for two States.

Representative Harry B. Hawes of Missouri and Julius Aitchison of Colorado declared this question could be settled in no other way. Both urged that the committee oblige the necessity for a long and tedious fight in the convention.

DECLARED SLIPPING
by Opponents Wear Down His Support Candidate Not Yet in Sight

ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
June 24.—As a result of the terrible attack upon him by the Ku Klux Klan and other organizations seeking government favors, William H. Harrison, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, is now giving up the idea of running for office. His choice now seems to be to remain in the background and support the efforts of the more popular candidates. Harrison, who is a well-known figure in the Democratic party, has been the target of a campaign of vilification by the Ku Klux Klan and other organizations. He has been accused of being a traitor and of having sold out to the interests of the government. Harrison, who is a native of Kentucky, has been in California for some time, and has been active in the Democratic party. He has been a member of the Democratic National Committee and has been a close advisor to the late Governor Hiram Johnson. Harrison's decision to withdraw from the race is a significant blow to the Democratic party in California. He was one of the leading candidates for the nomination, and his withdrawal leaves the party in a weakened position. Harrison's supporters are disappointed and are looking for a new candidate to replace him. The Ku Klux Klan and other organizations are celebrating Harrison's withdrawal and are promising to continue their campaign of vilification against the Democratic party.

HARRISON RAPS ADMINISTRATION
Keynote Speech of Strong Political Flavor

Teapot Dome Investigation Bitterly Denounced

Hails Democrats as Saviors of United States

BY A. P. MORT WIRE
NEW YORK, June 24.—America needs a Paul Revere, "not a sphinx," in the White House, to call it back to duty and high resolve, Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, declared today in sounding the keynote at the Democratic National Convention.

In an address condemning the Republican administration—its policies, both domestic and foreign—the temporary chairman called on Democrats everywhere, "with victory within their grasp," to unite against a common enemy.

"Oh, for one in the White House," he said, "whose heart might be melted and whose courage aroused by sympathy and fight. Would that we once more might see in that exalted position one with the courage of a Jackson, the militant honesty of a Cleveland, the matchless statesmanship and the fine fighting qualities of a Woodrow Wilson."

Senator Harrison ran the gamut of the Harding-Coolidge administration in a series of biting criticisms. A large part of his speech was taken up with a resume of the disclosures of Senate investigating committees. The oil policies, in particular, came in for the vigorous denunciation. Administration an oil well," he said, "and it will show you a foreign policy."

MEASURE OF ADMINISTRATION
"America has taken the measure of this administration," he continued. "It might have been able to free itself from the sectional and to have looked beyond the skirts of New England. It might have heard the groans of the distressed farmers of the West and sympathetically responded. It might have sought to remove the tariff from the channels through which our surplus products move, and it might have visualized world conditions and courageously assumed the part of a great nation. It might have reduced living costs, redeemed pledges to the soldier, followed a definite domestic program, and adopted a broad and statesmanlike foreign policy. Even then, it would have availed it nothing with its carnival of corruption."

The least that the American people expect of their public servants is common honesty. They will forgive their mistakes, overlook their indiscretions, and, too often, forget their inexperience, but to them corruption is intolerable, graft is indefensible.

Referring to Senate inquiries, Senator Harrison was unparing in his criticisms of the administration. He named Secretary of War Dugess, Secretary of the Interior Clegg, and former Senator Newberry of Michigan. He paid high tribute to Senator Thomas Watson of Georgia, prosecutor of the oil inquiry, and others connected with the various investigations.

BITTER DENUNCIATION
"Deceit them as they will, the American people know that it was these investigations—conducted by Democrats but through Republican committees—that sent Albert B. Fall to Three Rivers, a disgraced man. It was these investigations that compelled Edwin Denby's resignation from the Cabinet. It was these investigations that drove Daugherty back to Washington Court House. It was these investigations that caused conspirators against their government to take their own lives rather than tell the truth. It was these investigations that pointed to the scandal in the Veterans' Bureau. It was these investigations that put a Republican Congressman behind bars and lashed Newberry from the Senate. It was these investigations that informed the American people that the first official act of Calvin Coolidge was the appointment of a private secretary who had traded and trafficked in public patronage. It was these investigations that led a Republican Senate to convict its own Republican national committee for 'fixing' a Democratic Senator because he dared to do the right thing. Comparing the investigations into Democratic and Republican administration, Senator Harrison said it was "not graft alone that offers in the two administrations such happy comparisons."

"During these little more than three years," he said, "we have seen the present administration float along, tossed by every current, fanned by every breeze, without purpose, program or policy. Upon a thousand issues they have hoisted the white flag of surrender."

Senator Harrison declared that nothing in "burlesque or opera bouffe" was comparable to the "scene recently enacted at Cleveland in the efforts of the Silent Sphinx of the Potomac to exile and expatriate those Republican Senators who dared to oppose his mandate."

"They dared to vote an investigation of a number of the President's official family and they are penalized for their decency," he said.

FALSTAFFIAN ARMY
"By every device known to trained camoufageurs, by every subtle process of legerdemain, the Republican nominee, in true pharisaical fashion, sought to divorce himself from his former comrades in arms. The plan is obvious; the plot is futile. Neither the President nor his Falstaffian army conceal the ugly fact that the Cleveland convention was the most highly organized, boss-ridden and oligarchic ever held in America. The American people will not be deceived."

"The American people will know that they are dealing with a system; that even though Hanna, Quay and Penrose are dead, their spirits go marching on in the personages of the Three Musketeers of present-day Republicanism: Butler, Stearns and Sleep."

Turning to a discussion of the Mellon tax proposal, Senator Harrison asserted that it was conceived in the interest of privilege. "What is this Mellon tax?" he asked. "It is a tax on the poor. It is a tax on the laborer. It is a tax on the farmer. It is a tax on the small business man. It is a tax on the man who has given 1200 of the 5,185,955 income taxpayers in America 51 per cent of the total reduction.

The temporary chairman declared that the leadership of Simmons in the Senate and Garner in the House, the Democratic tax reduction proposal triumphed, "not because we were numerically strong, but because we were assuredly right."

Comparing the foreign policies of the American government under President Wilson and the Harding-Coolidge administration, Senator Harrison declared that the Wilson policy was "definite, wise and brave; the other vacillating, halting and weak."

"It is the difference," he said, "between a keynote and a key-hole policy, statesmanship."

COMMENDS HARDING
Commending President Harding for his proposal that America adhere to the World Court, Senator Harrison said that President Coolidge had pledged himself to carry out Mr. Harding's policies and that yet from the day he assumed office he had made "only a bow" in that direction.

Senator Harrison declared that if returned to control of the government the Democratic party would have "neither pots nor puppets to protect nor corrupt Cabinet members, nor a bloated trust magnate, nor Congressional bribe taker, nor an embelisher of the public domain, or a disreputable bootlegger."

"We will rigidly enforce the law," he said, "whether the violator be a bloated trust magnate, a Congressional bribe taker, an embelisher of the public domain, or a disreputable bootlegger."

"We will lay bare campaign bribery, and we will reduce transportation charges. We will go to the relief of distressed agriculture and adopt such policies and pass such laws as will restore to the farmer the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar."

"We will adopt a progressive tax and a progressive tariff."

"We will pursue the same high course that has ever inspired the leaders of Democracy, untainted by the taint of corruption, unmoved by those who seek to control."

"Neither the cries of radicalism nor the threats of conservatism will swerve us from our fixed purpose. Democracy is the right way. It is the path to the safe middle course, patronizing no 'isms' and paying tribute to no extremes."

EKECRATES LODGE
"Henry Cabot Lodge flunked the League of Nations out of the hearts of the American people," Lodge puffedfooted the League of Nations out of the hearts of the American people. Thank God I do not believe there are many Henry Cabot Lodges in this committee and this convention. If there are let them be given that execution of eternal time that traitor won."

Judge Westcott exceeded his allotted five minutes, but when he sought to stop, committeemen urged him to continue. He declared that if the Democrats "pusyfooted" on the League issue it would repudiate its own history; repudiate its own platform; repudiate its own "immortal leader, Woodrow Wilson."

The speaker, who apparently was laboring under stress, suddenly waved his hand and ceased. Walking slowly to an exit amid applause he collapsed on a committee-room door, but was revived and taken to his room.

Mr. Lodge, who is president of the League of Nations Nonpartisan Association, as well as a woman spokesman for a number of organizations, told the committee that the party had a great opportunity before it if it would stand fast on its principles. He declared that thousands of Republican and independent voters were waiting at the door for a declaration on this subject so that they might support the Democratic ticket.

REFERENDUMS PROPOSED
Referendums on the League questions were proposed by James Schermerhorn, a Detroit editor, and Representative T. Rainey of Illinois. Mr. Schermerhorn advocated a direct vote by the people while Mr. Rainey favored referendum through the Census Bureau.

A declaration for immediate and complete independence of the Philippines was urged by a Philippine delegation.

Edward J. Galtner, president of the National Association of Locomotive Engineers, said that the party should support the League of Nations. He said that the party should support the League of Nations. He said that the party should support the League of Nations.

FIVE MAY BE DEAD FROM BOAT BLAST
Naphtha Explodes on Ship at New York and Men Are Trapped in Hold

NEW YORK, June 24.—Five men were believed to have been burned to death late today in a fire that followed the explosion of naphtha aboard the British freighter, Egremont Castle, at her dock in Brooklyn. Seven other men were seriously burned.

The explosion, which put the ship in a maelstrom of flames, trapped the men in the hold. So intense was the heat it was impossible to give them aid. As further explosions seemed imminent, the freighter was towed by fireboats to Red Hook Point flats, opposite the Statue of Liberty where she was beached.

The explosion occurred when fifty men, engaged in the unloading of the ship, were trapped in the hold. The men were working on the fastenings of the ship and crashed to the bottom of the hold.

The five men believed to have lost their lives were missing when the ship was beached. The other seven men were taken to the hospital.

The ship was owned by the Standard Oil Company, which owned most of the cargo the Egremont Castle was shipping.

DELEGATE FIGHT WON BY MADDOO
Credentials Committee Seats Alternate from Oregon

Minneapolis Contest Thrown Out by Large Majority

Women Made Chairman and Secretary of Group

BY A. P. MORT WIRE
NEW YORK, June 24.—McAdoo forces in the credentials committee were victorious in their fight to seat Judge Thomas G. Burke as the alternate of Frank S. Myers of Portland as a delegate at large from Oregon. They won by a vote of 29 to 14, with sixteen States absent and two not voting.

The vote removed from the delegation Miss Claire Pierce, daughter of Gov. Pierce, who had been selected as an alternate by the State Central Committee. Mr. Myers personally had selected Judge Burke to act for him in the convention, and a telegram to that effect was read in the credentials committee. The message, dated June 23, addressed Judge Burke in New York, said:

"I hereby appoint you my proxy and alternate for the coming Democratic national convention. Stand by McAdoo."

Will R. King, National Committeeman-elect from Oregon, in presenting the petition of the contestants, declared that the purpose of a second faction of a delegation headed by John H. Stevenson of Portland and seating Miss Pierce to "defeat the purposes of the State primary law under which the delegates were instructed to vote for McAdoo."

A contest involving eleven members of the Minnesota delegation, including all of the four delegates at large, was dismissed by the committee.

The contest petition presented by C. C. Daniels of New York City in behalf of Mrs. Angie V. Kingsley, chairman of the Democratic central committee of Hennepin county and Z. H. Austin, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee of Minnesota, concluded with this declaration:

"The State convention was an illegal affair, how controlled and how ridden, in which the real Democracy of the State had no voice or opportunity to be heard."

Following presentation of the case by Mrs. Kingsley and a reading of testimony by Mrs. Kingsley a motion to dismiss on the ground that the prime facie case was within the scope of the credentials committee had not been presented by the contestants and was supported by a large majority, only two members of the committee voting against the motion.

Ten women were assigned by the various States to the committee which is composed of fifty-two members and straightened out as representatives of all women at the convention elected one of their number chairman.

Two women were assigned by the various States to the committee which is composed of fifty-two members and straightened out as representatives of all women at the convention elected one of their number chairman.

FIVE YANKEES QUALIFY TO PLAY FOR BRITISH OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP

WILLIE SARAZAN LEADING AMERICAN AT HOYLAKE

Smith and Hagen Finish Next; Barnes, Nicholls Barely Get in; Taylor Tops Field

HOYLAKE, June 24.—Eighty-seven golfers have qualified for play in the British open championship, among them five of the best Americans who crossed the ocean in quest of the title.

The successful Americans are Willie Sarazan, Macdonald Smith, Jim Barnes and Gill Nicholls. One American who fell out was Taylor, who was eliminated by a high score in the first round.

Sarazan, who had an opportunity to win the honors was all out when he began the second round today, as he had made 75 yesterday. Nor did Macdonald Smith, whose first day's score of 73 put him among the leaders. Sarazan playing consistently but not moderately well, got a 74 for an aggregate of 151.

Smith, obviously playing merely to be safe, slipped into enough errors to make his score 81 for an aggregate of 153, which, however, was well within the limit. Jim Barnes, who made 78 this afternoon as an offset to his 81 of yesterday, and Gill Nicholls both came under the wire with but one stroke to spare. Each of their cards totaled 157.

WILLIE KAMM SITS ON WHITE SOX BENCH

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO, June 24.—In an effort to come out of the slump which has been bothering him, Willie Kamm, the White Sox's $100,000 third baseman, has voluntarily benched himself. The former San Francisco Coast League star told Manager John Evers that a rest would do him good, and Evers promptly gave him a seat on the bench.

BEAVERS ANNEX OPENER

Beaver Beats Thomas in Duel; Poole's Great Play in Ninth Saves Game; Tigers Lose, 2-to-1

(BY ROBERT E. RAY.)

The Duke's Beavers from Portland took the opening of the series yesterday when Lefty Schroeder took a 2-to-1 bet on Lefty Thomas after a neat exhibition of pitching by a pair of pitchers. The game was over in a hurry, lasting only one hour and fifteen minutes.

Lefty Schroeder gets credit for a bit of credit for his pitching. Jim Thomas, who was supposed to be the best pitcher in the league, should not be passed over. He pitched a great game, but he was out of his mind in the ninth inning when he pitched a wild pitch that allowed Lefty Thomas to score the winning run.

The Beavers did all their scoring in the first inning, which "Gasoline" Distel opened by drawing one of the three walks dealt out by Thomas. McCann followed Distel with a resounding double down the third-base line which flashed out of Kinnick's reach. Distel took third on the bat and scored when Jake Miller hit one just too far to the left of Wee Griffin, who was playing in to make a play at the plate, for the Vernon second-sacker to do anything more to the blow than hold it to an infield hit. Dick Cox struck out, burning out a couple of bearings with a powerful swing on the third strike. Poole bounced one to Thomas, who hesitated whether to throw to the plate or to throw to second and then threw to second.

Wright and Van Elm Qualify This Afternoon

(BY CHARLES WEST.)

With Frank Godchaux of New Orleans leading the way with a card of 73, the annual invitation tournament of the California Country Club opened yesterday 232 golfers playing their medal round. Today an additional six or seven dozen men are scheduled to qualify, which will probably make a total breaking all records for quantity in a Southern California invitational event, staged on one course.

Godchaux had intended to play today in a foursome with Fred Wright, George Van Elm and Harry Hurley, but found it impossible to carry out his plans. E. H. Fredericksen, chairman of the tournament committee, announced last night that Everett Seaver would probably complete the foursome, while Jack Neville stands ready to play in case Seaver isn't available, although he qualified yesterday with an 80. The four stars will tee off at 1:30 p.m.

WEINSTEIN IS DEFEATED BY EASTERN STAR

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—F. P. Anderson, Columbia, furnished a surprise today in the competition for the national intercollegiate tennis singles championship at the Merion Cricket Club by defeating Irving Weinstein, captain of the University of California team and a former mixed doubles partner of Helen Wills, national women's champion, in the third round.

The scores were 6-2, 8-3. Weiler Evans of Phillips Andover, defeated the George Washington High School, New York City, will meet in the final round tomorrow. In the semifinals today Evans defeated Milton Holkin of Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-2, and Orser eliminated John Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J., 10-8, 6-1.

SISLER REINSTATED

BY PREXY JOHNSON

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

CHICAGO, June 24.—President Ban Johnson of the American League today reinstated George Sisler, manager of the St. Louis Browns, who was indefinitely suspended Sunday with two other members of the club as a result of a pool bet on the outcome of a game between the Browns and the Yankees.

Sisler was reinstated after a hearing before the league's executive committee. The committee found that Sisler had not bet on the game, but that he had been involved in a pool bet. Sisler was reinstated on the condition that he would not bet on any game during the season.

FARREN SLUGS SALVADORE

Frankie in Front All Way in Main Event at Doyle's Boxing Arena; Wins Easy Decision

Frankie Farren won a decision over Phil Salvatore last night in the main bout at Jack Doyle's famous arena. Salvatore hardly showed up to his usual good form and the bout was one that the fans failed to grow enthusiastic over. Farren was in front all the way.

He played a tattoo on Phil's smaller throughout the fight, causing the recipient to indulge in frequent sniffs to arrest the burning heat. Farren did all their scoring in the first round, which "Gasoline" Distel opened by drawing one of the three walks dealt out by Thomas. McCann followed Distel with a resounding double down the third-base line which flashed out of Kinnick's reach. Distel took third on the bat and scored when Jake Miller hit one just too far to the left of Wee Griffin, who was playing in to make a play at the plate, for the Vernon second-sacker to do anything more to the blow than hold it to an infield hit. Dick Cox struck out, burning out a couple of bearings with a powerful swing on the third strike. Poole bounced one to Thomas, who hesitated whether to throw to the plate or to throw to second and then threw to second.

He landed a right to the jaw that shook up the ex-sailor considerably. Salvatore showed up a little better in the third with his left jab but when he went to his corner the old smelling salts were quickly brought into requisition. Phil showed best in the final round. He exchanged often with Frankie but the die had been cast and Salvatore was on the short end. The set was not very pleasing.

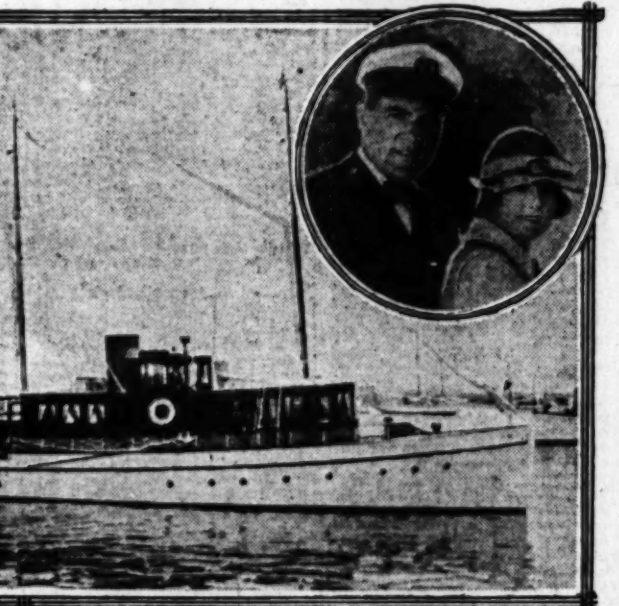

In the semi-wind-up Young Datto drew the decision over Tommy Carter. This was a dandy scrap, the men going hammer and tongs all the way. Datto closed one of Tommy's eyes. Tommy forced the fighting a great deal and it was for this reason that the fans booed the decision.

SLOW ACTION

Nick Newman copped the judge's eyes over Fred Sullivan. The lads are shake-up may occur among eastern colleges.

IN QUEST OF REAL ESKIMO PIE

Motion-picture folks yearn to see something different than hand-painted scenery and thespians hence their desire to go as far away from center of moving-picture industry as possible. Hal Roach, noted producer, will hop aboard his palatial cabin cruiser, the Gypsy, for a tour of Alaska next month. Mrs. Roach will not trust her handsome hubby among the wild Eskimo women so will go along to keep her eye on him. Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Whiting will assist Mrs. Roach in her task. The Gypsy is shown here. In the inset appear its boss and his. Another prominent figure in moviedom is Jackie Coogan, the child wonder of the screen. Jackie has become quite a golfing bug and is already hurling challenges to members of the Scottish pastime. Jackie appears on the right of the lower picture while Neil Rasmussen, Jr., whom he will meet this afternoon in a match at the Rancho Golf Club, is shown on the left.

Jimmy Murphy Leading in 1924 Championship Race

Smiling Jimmy Murphy goes into the championship event at Kansas City Speedway on Independence Day leading the 1924 chase for the A.A.A. crown by the wide margin of 235 points. However, Jimmy has not quite piled up the safe lead he held in 1923 for any one of four other drivers stands a chance of passing him by a victory over the Midwest board course. The drivers in the order of their standing below Murphy are Corum, Cooper, Fongler and Harts.

With the race program already lined up for the season and with formal sanctions issued by the contest board of the A.A.A. for races at Kansas City, Charlotte, Altoona, Syracuse, Fremont, Kansas City and Los Angeles a complete change in the line-up is well within the bounds of possibility, according to Val Hanes, contest board member for California, who only yesterday received the official standings from the board's offices at Franklin, Pa.

The official list with point standing of each driver, including Val Hanes, is as follows:

Driver	Points
Murphy	750
Corum	515
Cooper	280
Fongler	45
Harts	15
Val Hanes	10
Wendell	5
Stuart	5
McDonough	5

DALLAS (TEX.), June 24.—Roy Mitchell, former Vernon Coast League heavier, was today made manager of the local club in the Texas League. Mitchell, who has been with the Dallas team for several years, succeeds Walter Harris, resigned.

GORDON PREPARING FOR NET TOURNAMENT

Huntley Gordon, the motion-picture star who made collar advertisements famous, has been working out on the Los Angeles Tennis Club courts daily for the past month in an effort to get in shape for the approaching Pacific Coast sectional doubles tournament. Gordon has regained most of his former speed and "stiff" but he had a little difficulty getting back his steadiness. He may pair with Fred B. Alexander, Davis Cup veteran.

MRS. TRABUE IS RE-ELECTED

To Lead Women's Auxiliary of S.C.G.A. Again

Mrs. G. M. Midgley to Handle Team Competition

Sweepstakes Are Won by Mrs. H. D. Hammond

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Mrs. A. F. D. Trabue, who has been the presiding genius of the Women's Auxiliary of the Southern California Golf Association for the past year, was re-elected chairman of the organization yesterday during the annual meeting of the body at the Hollywood Country Club. Mrs. H. D. Hammond of the Los Angeles Country Club was named vice-chairman, and Miss Margaret Cameron of Annandale, secretary.

Mrs. G. M. Midgley of the Los Angeles Country Club was chosen as chairman of the team-match committee again, her splendid work in organizing an inter-club league among women golfers having been one of the big achievements of the Auxiliary during the year just closed. She will be assisted by Mrs. A. T. Wynn of Brentwood and Miss Maud Bell of Midwick.

Feminine handicaps will be in the hands of Mrs. T. W. Hays of Wilshire; Mrs. C. K. Moore of Los Angeles; Mrs. P. B. Noon of California; Mrs. John Clark of San Gabriel, and Mrs. Paul Pitzer of Midwick for the ensuing year.

After the annual meeting a sweepstakes was held at the Hollywood links. Mrs. H. D. Hammond won in Class A with a gross 90, while Ann Webster was second with 91. Net honors were divided between Mrs. Ike Wentworth of California, and Mrs. J. J. Horan of Hollywood, each of whom scored 106-14-86.

In Class B, Miss Julia Lockwood of Flintridge, and Miss Quent of Los Angeles tied at 105. Mrs. V. B. Prophet won the net trophy with a card of 110-28-54, while Mrs. Garlick, Mrs. H. F. Collins and Mrs. A. T. Wynn tied for second, 107-22-55 each.

Women golfers will tee off this morning at 9 o'clock in a Sanyo Jans tournament on the Warren G. Harding course at Griffith Park. Mrs. Ike Wentworth, who is handling the details of the event, requests that all players appear on time.

OTHER YANKEES ALSO WIN OUT

Berkeley Girl Trims Lillian Scharman, 6-1, 6-0

Suzanne Lenglen Has Little Trouble Winning

WIMBLEDON, June 24.—Miss Helen Wills of California, the American tennis champion, came back to form today in her match against one of her compatriots, Miss Lillian Scharman. Without extending herself but playing a keen game, she won easily, 6-1, 6-0.

Three of the six American women lost their matches in the first round of the ladies' singles in the Wimbledon classic today, but in addition to Miss Wills, Mrs. Malory and Mrs. Marion Z. Jeamp came through successfully. Suzanne Lenglen, the world's champion, kept up her customary gait, defeating her opponent in love.

Miss Edith Sigourney, Miss Scharman and Miss Eleanor Sears were the Americans eliminated.

MEEN ALL WIN

Tennis supremacy of the men from across the Atlantic is not yet endangered. The American Olympic team, R. Norris Williams, Vincent Richards, Francis T. Hunter and Watson M. Washburn, went into the third round of the men's singles with only Washburn encountering difficulty in putting away his opponent, Col. H. G. Mayer, in a five-set match.

Williams showed no mercy to the Irish player, E. A. McGuire, whose failure to arrive yesterday caused postponement of the original match. As usual, the former American champion combined his famous speed with aggressiveness. Williams forced the play and won, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

The intercollegiate champion, Carl Fisher, added another victory by defeating V. Rudolph in straight sets.

In making her debut at Wimbledon Miss Wills demonstrated that she is coming back and the likelihood is that she will improve as she becomes more accustomed to conditions here. She showed her opponent, Miss Scharman, only one game, which was almost as good as Miss Lenglen.

The young California girl was a rare contrast to Suzanne's dashing play on five occasions.

FISH AND GAME FUND NOW FREE

Sportsmen's Commission Plans Improvements

Gov. Richardson Approves Greater Wild-Life Work

Yosemite Hatchery Next to Be; Fighting for Klamath

BY EDWIN L. HEDDERLY

BRINGING to sportsmen of Southern California welcome assurance that Gov. F. W. Richardson is delighted with recent Supreme Court decisions safeguarding and releasing the previously "frozen" surplus of the fish and game preservation fund collected by virtually voluntary contributions of hunters and anglers' licenses, Hon. F. M. Newbert, president of their State-wide organization, which gathers and invests their fund under its legal status as the California Fish and Game Commission, yesterday cheerfully into Los Angeles yesterday.

Newbert, well named "Frank," like the other sportsmen and game commissioners, is a nonsalaried volunteer in the cause of overworked wild life. This week, with his local colleagues, Commissioner Michael J. Connell, arrangements are in prospect to plan for the State's conservation of the fish and game savings accumulated thus far this year. Connell, always the "big business man" of the sportsmen's organization, is in prospect to plan for the State's conservation of the fish and game savings accumulated thus far this year. Connell, always the "big business man" of the sportsmen's organization, is in prospect to plan for the State's conservation of the fish and game savings accumulated thus far this year.

GOVERNOR FOR WILD LIFE

Gov. Richardson recently visited Yosemite with his usual keen observation and was much impressed with the vast enthusiasm shown in outdoors. His approval has been given the Yosemite hatchery project, for which plans were drawn several years ago, after surveys and testing had preceded a long-term lease of first-class new hatchery, costing from $25,000 to $30,000, will be erected there at once. The Happy Isles, 1200 ft. above the river, will be a water supply for some time—how long would be a rash guess in view of the phenomenal increase of sporting interest manifested last year by sales of nearly 500,000 licenses to hunters and anglers.

CHEERS FOR THE SOUTH

"What is off to you Southern Californians! You are 'go-getters'! Were it not for you sportsmen of the south we wouldn't have a recollection of fish and game in this State. Our people in the north, waded in its blood for years, regardless of the future. It was your united front here, the south, shown by your representatives at Sacramento, that has saved fish and game in their darkest hours before the legislature of past years. Well have you earned and paid for the most magnificent hatchery in the world. Your fisheries research laboratory and equipment in existence. From this time on you are going to get every other improvement that the expected gain in sporting revenues will finance. We have not forgotten that you have the pace in conservation—that but for you the deer and the ducks would long since have been sold off and the public's attraction-interest in them sacrificed to private profit. Your dollars have helped to stock the fisheries artificially, and anglers' paradise innumerable. I am glad to say that now the north also is awakened to the lesson long learned by the south, with your ever-increasing population and your enormously spreading, enthusiastic sportsmanship."

HER FIFTH VENTURE
According to the daughter and her husband, Mrs. Cummings her fifth husband through a matrimonial agency. Cummings was described by them and by Mrs. Cummings' friends here as "young and refined." Mrs. Rae said her home here a few days before her marriage and is believed to have had at least $500 with her at the time she was slain with a hatchet in Wisconsin, Saturday night.
The marriage came as a surprise to Mrs. Bailey. She said her mother told her Cummings had come from Victoria, B. C., and that after their marriage they were going to drive there, where Cummings was the owner of a vast forest estate. But the marriage license gives Cummings' occupation as a salesman and his home

OFF REMARRIED
According to the daughter her father, George Waddell of Greenville, and her mother separated when she was a child. The mother remarried soon after that, she said, and she became out of touch with her mother's activities, although she had learned of at least two other marriages before the one to Cummings.
"One of the men she married was named Baker," Mrs. Bailey said, "and she had two sons by a previous marriage who were killed when their automobile was hit by a train in Milwaukee, we understand."
"We have lost all track of Mrs.
Rae's husband," Mrs. Bailey's husband said.
"Mrs. Rae certainly carried herself well for a woman of past 40.
We admired her pluck, but when we heard of her last marriage and the circumstances we sort of felt something was going to happen.
It just didn't seem right. There's lieve."

AVOCADO GROVES

50 TREES OR MORE PER ACRE
300 TO 400 FRUITS OR MORE PER TREE
25 CENTS OR MORE PER FRUIT
This is a very conservative estimate of the AVERAGE RETURN PER ACRE FROM A MATURE AVOCADO GROVE.
Cut this estimate in half or take one-third of it and you will still have a very gratifying income from your grove.

INVESTIGATE

RIGHT NOW—TODAY—INVESTI-GATE the facts of the avocado industry. When you have done this—you will no longer be satisfied with 4 per cent on your money—or 7 per cent—but will want one of these money-making groves.
BUT BEWARE—buy your grove in proven avocado territory—LA HABRA HEIGHTS, a project developed by the avocado pioneers of California, close to Los Angeles and the beaches. A distinctive homesite with each parcel.
Take part of that vacation money, and place it in this great development—if necessary deny yourself a vacation to buy at La Habra Heights and protect your future.
You owe it to yourself, your family, to investigate.

WARREN SEEMS HOPE OF MEXICO

Ambassador is Welcomed Back to Republic

His Aid Expected in Relief of Money Situation

Financial Straits Not so Severe as Reported

BY JACK STARR-HUNT
(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MEXICO CITY, June 24.—Figuratively speaking, Mexican stock has gone up with a bang following the return of Ambassador Charles Warren. Warren means much to Mexico, and especially to American nationals resident in the republic, while in all circles he is looked upon as a sort of personal guarantee for a defined policy on the part of Washington and the continuance of the treatment of Mexico as a recognized nation, without any attempt to meddle with her internal affairs. Such is the substance of an Excelsior editorial on the Ambassador's return.

Within a few days of Warren's return Obregon's successor will be elected, and there is a feeling of confidence that through his good offices Mexico will finally obtain in the United States a small, short-term loan, which will enable her to get out of her temporary financial straits without the necessity of postponing any obligation under the Lamoignon-Huerta agreement.

Comply with your international commitments," has been Warren's sermon to the Obregon government. "Your credit as a nation is of greater value than the incalculable of a temporary shortage of twenty or thirty million pesos, which the world knows was caused by an unfortunate revolution. And Obregon seems to have agreed with Warren, for economy is now the policy.

ECONOMY PRACTICED
The Mexican army is now costing the nation $4,000 pesos less per day than during the revolutionary period, and this reduction in expenditures will be doubled within a month.

Provided nothing untoward happens at the forthcoming elections, the Mexican financial situation will be on a fair way to balancing itself. In Mexico City there is a complete absence of interest in the question of who may succeed Obregon. Much more interest is being taken in political happenings north of the Rio Grande, and during the Republican convention at Cleveland columns and columns of space were devoted to it.

Perhaps the most outstanding feature in the Mexican situation at present is petroleum. During the revolution oil taxation dropped in December to the hitherto unheard-of figure of 500,000 pesos, while official estimates for the month of June are that the government probably will collect 3,000,000 pesos in production taxes. Money is easier in financial circles, and banks are showing more disposition to lend. Mining is reported in a satisfactory condition, especially the production of silver, which has taken a big jump upward; following the rise in price on the New York market.

READY CASH SCARCE
The bugbear of the whole situation is the fact that the Obregon government has not the ready cash to pay what may be called the "butcher and grocer" account—the bills owing to Mexico City and other merchants for army foodstuffs and the like. Obregon has frankly admitted that his purse in this respect is empty, and the admission has been unfortunate, for money sources in the United States have exaggerated the statement to the extent that the Mexican republic is down and out, bankrupt.

As the Anglo-American puts it, "Mexico is entitled to an expensive treatment from United States bankers as France, Italy or sundry other debt-ridden European countries. Mexico, at least, has shown an inclination to try and pay her debts, which is far more than France or Italy, or some of the European neighbors who are being coddled by the American bankers, have done. Mexico is unfortunate in that owing the bankers less and hope to sell high when the market is right. Lamont and his associates were to be hoping for aid, as they did when they chipped in $100,000,000 to support the French franc rather than let it be smashed utterly to the resultant breaking of their own necks."

FIGHT FOR JOB LOST BY GALT PRINCIPAL

APPEAL COURT HANDS DOWN DECISION SUSTAINING SCHOOL TRUSTEES

SACRAMENTO, June 24.—The fight waged by William Bland to retain his position as principal of the high school at Galt was lost today when the Third District Court of Appeal handed down a decision supporting the stand of the school trustees and a ruling of the Superior Court of Sacramento county.

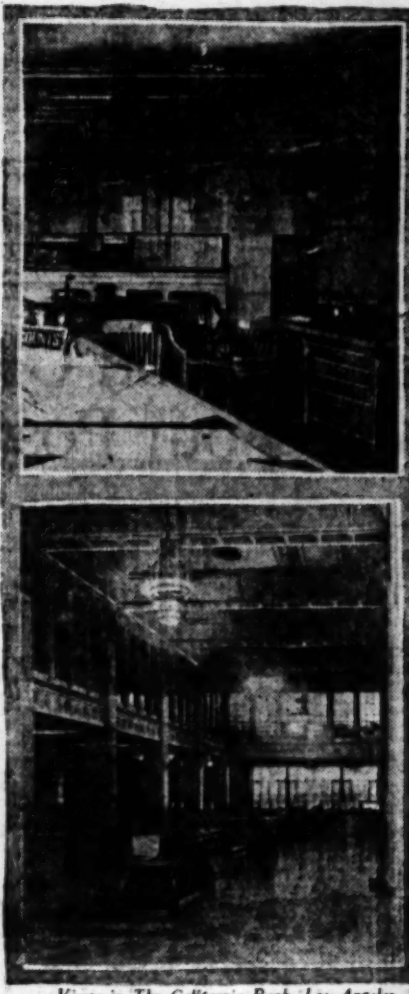

The controversy was one of long standing and resulted in two men claiming the same position. Bland asserted that the action of the board in dismissing him at the end of the last school year and appointing E. E. Ortel as his successor was illegal, on the ground that the dismissal was not within the period required by law and that he was removed without a hearing.

BRITISH CHIEF ADVISES CANADA TO BUILD NAVY

VICTORIA (B. C.) June 24.—The Navy League of Canada, opening its annual convention here today, had before it the advice of Sir Frederick Field, commander of His Majesty's special service squadron, which arrived here Saturday, that Canada establish a navy. Sir Frederick suggested yesterday at a luncheon honoring the squadron, that this Dominion maintain four cruisers.

SACRAMENTO, June 24.—Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, reported to the State Board of Education today that he has named two committees—a research committee and a general committee—to conduct an investigation of the course of study in the elementary schools of California. In accordance with the terms of a gift of $18,000 by the Commonwealth Club of New York City. Announcement of the gift was made by Wood several weeks ago.

The following educators and school superintendents were named on the committees:

RULE AIDS ENTRYMEN ON DESERT

Yearly Costs Suspended on Lands Under Provision of San Carlos Bill

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PHOENIX, June 24.—Desert-land entrymen within the area to be irrigated under provisions of the San Carlos reclamation bill will not be required to spend money for installation of pumps and artificial irrigation systems which will be useless to them with the coming of water under the new project.

Regulations relieving them of further expenditures for the improvements ordinarily required each year under the desert-entry laws and holding all entries suspended pending formation of the exact area to be reclaimed under the bill, were issued yesterday by the United States Department of the Interior.

In a telegram to John R. Towles, Register of the United States Land Office here, United States Senator Ralph H. Cameron, author of the San Carlos Bill, conveyed the good news for those who held claims to desert lands in the Olla River Valley and which eventually will be irrigated from the San Carlos reservoir.

Two classes of entrymen will be affected in the order. They will be those who have recently appealed for extensions of time in which to complete the improvements necessary before they can make final proof on their claims, and those who are faced with the requirements of making the regular yearly expenditures for improvements on their claims, but who are not yet ready to prove up on their entries.

TRAIL MAY BE NAMED FOR EMERSON HOUGH

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WAUKA (Okla.), June 24.—At the annual meeting of the Chickasaw Pioneers Association, to be held soon in Dillard Park near Ringling, the membership probably will be asked to endorse a proposal of highway enthusiasts of Southwestern Oklahoma that the southern section of what is known as the Chisholm Trail through Oklahoma be designated hereafter as the Emerson Hough Trail. This move to honor the author of western stories of historical background arises from the fact that the first herd of Texas cattle driven to Abilene, Kan., to market, crossed the Red River in what is now Jefferson county and traversed this country and Stephens and Gray before it reached what really is the historic Chisholm Trail.

SON'S WEDDING CAUSE OF WOMAN'S SUICIDE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

RENO (Nev.), June 24.—Brooding over the approaching marriage of her youngest son, who had been her constant companion over forty years, Mrs. Louise Moffitt, 74 years of age, satd her bed with kerosene, wired herself to the heavy bedstead and, firing the bedding, calmly watched the flames envelop her. Neighbors, attracted by dense smoke, tore her from the flaming bedding, but she died while being taken to the Emergency Hospital. Mrs. Moffitt was the widow of David Moffitt, California and Nevada pioneer and at one time one of the wealthy ranchers of the West.

EDUCATION OF INDIANS TO COST MORE IN 1925

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Expenditures for the education of Indians during the fiscal year of 1925 will total $5,571,564, an increase of $227,689 over the fiscal year of 1924, it was announced at the Interior Department today as a result of a tabulation just completed. The largest increase in the appropriation is $100,000 to pay the tuition of Indian children in the public schools of Western States.

In Ye Good Olde Days of the Four Poster and Its Companions

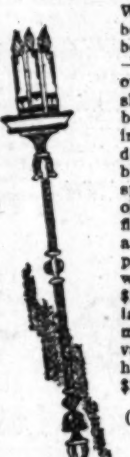

We would not return to them, but a few of their ways we cling to. Their furniture we adore and none can usurp its place in our affections. Many "Homes Delightful" readers shared the savings offered in a sale of four posters some time ago. They will be particularly interested in the Colonial pieces which we bought to go with those beds, as will every woman who cherishes those things dear to a by-gone generation. The unaffected simplicity of design, the sturdy characteristics of a pioneer race, expressed in the various bedroom pieces. Warm brown mahogany finish. Each piece constructed in a manner to insure years of beautiful service.

Lighting the Way to Happy Summer Nights

When the short California twilight is over, and the gray dusk is suddenly night, and lamps are lighted—

What kind of lamps will they be? Lamps that combine the beautiful with the practical—lamps that can be switched on at one's elbow and that shed a sufficient light on the book you are reading, the sewing you are doing? Will the desk light shed just the right brilliancy, on just the right spot? Torchères—lend an air of dignity. Mantel or stately floor standards, you will find add immeasurably to the prestige of a room! Ours, a wide and wonderful stock. $24.00 to $95.00. In the Intimacy of the Mistress' Boudoir—A Spinnet Desk

And its inseparable companion—the Windsor chair. Who couldn't compose clever little bread-and-butter letters? Who wouldn't find it easy to answer the most tiresome of letters—to keep one's household accounts in apple pie order? Certainly! One could almost search for an excuse to sit before a charming little desk! And in a comfortable Windsor.

There are all sorts and sizes of desks. Priced $33.00 to $175.00.

Likewise all sorts and sizes of quaint little Windsor chairs to match! Priced $9.50 to $18.50.

Saving Summer's Sweetness

Berries, dripping with sugared juices, fruits, deliciously "meaty," vegetables with the dew still clinging to them—that's the way you want to preserve them, and that's the way you can! The right method used, canning is not a summer occasion to be dreaded!

The Conservo, will can 14 quarts at one time—by the cold pack method—that is putting the fruit in jars cold. No messy pans, no imprisonment in a hot kitchen. The Conservo needs but one burner while preserving the 14 quarts. Or you can preserve a lesser number while preparing your regular meals in the Conservo. Yes, it is a 365 day cooker, not a seasonal help! Priced only $11.75. Let us demonstrate its powers.

A Jelly Strainer, that will fit on the side of any kettle, 65c. A Wooden Squeezer to help force the jelly while straining, priced 25c. And everything else one could possibly need to make canning easy.

EARLY RALSTON BOOM IS FEARED

Taggart to Hold Backers to Waiting Game

Presidency or Nothing for Indiana Senator

Economy Record to be Big Talk for Candidate

(By A. P. WEST WIRE)
NEW YORK, June 24.—Thomas Taggart, head of the Ralston candidacy, declared emphatically tonight that the old Illinois-New York-Indiana coalition was not operating at this Democratic convention, and that under no circumstances would Senator Ralston accept the Vice-Presidential nomination.

"Ralston for President or nothing," was the way Taggart summarized the situation. "I have entered into no alliance with anyone.
True, the leaders of the various candidates have called on me, but I have not called on any of them, and I have not made any deal of any kind."

"If the convention should see fit to nominate Senator Ralston for Vice-President, I shall decline in his behalf, as I have been empowered to do."

FEAR EARLY BOOM
Taggart is playing a waiting game for Ralston and will continue to do so. He spent all of today, except the time he was in the convention, at his hotel receiving leaders who came to discuss the Indiana Senator's chances and feel out Taggart on a switch of the Indiana delegation and Taggart's personal support. All of them got the same answer: "That Taggart is going to stand pat on Ralston and he is unwilling to concede now that anyone else will be nominated.
Therefore why discuss such a possibility," he asked blandly, and with that conversation ceased.

Fear is expressed among Ral-ston's friends that he may be pushed too fast and Taggart is guarding particularly against such an agency.

Taggart's strategy is to keep his workers quiet for two or three more days in order to permit the outstanding candidates to wear themselves out. He is understood to believe that present outstanding candidates will pass the peak of their strength after a few ballots and then the drift will start to Ralston, if his supporters do not become too active in the meantime.

HOLDING FIGHT REIN
Taggart particularly does not want anyone offended by his overzealous boomers. Therefore he is holding a tight rein on his workers.
Ralston follows a practice to believe that their candidate will rush to the fore as soon as Smith and McAdoo are through fighting each other. They maintain that the turn of events in the last two days has eliminated all other serious

WOMAN FLIES WHEN EIGHTY

Mrs. Goudge, Santa Monica Octogenarian, Celebrates Birthday in Clouds

(By A. P. WEST WIRE)
SANTA BARBARA, June 24.—Dipping and shooting through the clouds high above Santa Barbara's mountains and whirling over the ocean in a series of barrel rolls and pancake flips was the manner in which Mrs. M. E. Goudge of Santa Monica, celebrated her eightieth birthday here this week in an airplane piloted by Dave Mathews, formerly of the Army Air Service and noted as a stunt flyer.

The octogenarian aviator hopped in for her first plane ride without a qualm, she said, and the farther and higher she went the more she liked it.

Mrs. Goudge said she was perfectly thrilled when she stepped from the ship.

AFFIDAVITS ATTACK CLAIM TO OIL LANDS

DOCUMENTS IN PHILIPPINES DENY PLAINTIFF IS RIGHTFUL HEIR

(By Cable and Associated Press)
MANILA, June 24.—Affidavits denying that Gregorio Velasquez Carmichael, now in the United States as a claimant for oil lands near Ponca City, Okla., which are said to be worth millions, is the son of Dugal Carmichael and consequent heir to the lands, have been made by several persons here. The affidavits are in the hands of an American attorney here.

Gregorio's claim is based on the assertion that he is the son of Carmichael, a former soldier who died some time ago, owner of the lands in question, and Justa Velasquez Carmichael, a Filipino woman.
The affidavits declare that the true son of these two died some years ago and that the claimant now in the United States is in reality a son of a former cavalry sergeant named Wilson.

The affidavits are to be used as evidence in litigation arising from the boy's claim, now pending in the Oklahoma courts. Other claimants to the lands are Mrs.
Harah Petit Dugal, Carmichael's sister, and Dorothy, his daughter.

SPEAKERS SHOW ROAD TO AMITY

Santa Monica Conference in Second Session

International Goodwill, the Central Theme

Program for Day Ends With Public Meeting

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
SANTA MONICA, June 24.—
With many of the leading educators and business men of the Southland present, the second day's session of the Pacific Conference on International Goodwill opened this morning at the Pacific Pal-mades Auditorium in Santa Monica Canyon.

Henry C. Niese, Vice-Consul of Argentina, presided at the morning session and also delivered an address on "Organizing Fraternal Organizations for International Service." Horace W. Cutler, business manager of the World Traders, and president of the Delta Phi Epsilon Alumni Association of Southern California, also spoke.

Both speakers stressed the need for a united front among fraternal organizations to secure international amity.

Dr. Von Klein Smid, president of the University of California, also spoke at the morning session. He discussed the Pan-American Union and its work in fostering better relations between the nations of North and South America.

Group discussions on the economic interdependence of peoples of all nations followed. America's relations to the Orient and steps to bring about better feeling between this country and Japan were considered.

Charles H. Scott, president of the Pacific Palisades Association; Kamame Wakasui, Japanese Consul in Los Angeles; Dr. David Starr Jordan, chancellor-emeritus of Stanford University, and a number of others spoke during the afternoon. Mr. Wakasui devoted his address to a discussion of the "Basis of International Goodwill."

A public meeting was conducted in the evening at which the principal speaker was Rabbi Ernest Trautner of Los Angeles, who spoke on "Religion and International Goodwill." Other speakers at the public meeting were Dr. Oswald W.
R. McCall, pastor of the First Congregational Church, and Rev. Frederic Stedenberg, dean of Loyola University of Chicago.

DEATH TRAIL IS SOUGHT IN EXTORTIONS

Officials Question Three Attorneys and Wine Man in Murder Clew Hunt

Three attorneys and a wine merchant were questioned at the District Attorney's office yesterday afternoon by a corps of investigators who are seeking the identities of the ringleaders of an extortion gang that is said to have "shaken down" numerous wealthy Italians for large sums of money and who are suspected of having directed the slaying of two Italians near the Baldwin Hills last week.

Those interrogated were Mac Meator, former Assistant United States Attorney; C. C. Brown, a former prohibition enforcement officer; Buell R. Wood and Andrea Michelli. The latter is the owner of a bonded winery. He told District Atty. Dennison, Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's homicide squad, and Capt. Hunter of the District Attorney's homicide squad, that he had been "shaken down" for $6100 by Frank Rinaldo, one of the ringleaders of the gang.

Michelli, his business partner, and the truck driver were arrested and former's $2000 bond was forfeited.
The wine merchant was released later on $10,000 bond and is now in the federal building. Michelli told Deputy District Attorney Bright,
"He was with Rinaldo, whose name I do not know. This other man informed me that anything Rinaldo told me could be relied upon. Rinaldo told me he could fix up my case and I paid him $6100 in three installments, but the case never came to court."

Rinaldo was killed several weeks later. Attorney Meator, it was learned, did not become acquainted with the shaking down of his client until he was so informed by Michelli. He and other attorneys were questioned, according to the authorities, because of their acquaintances in the Italian colony, in which they do a big business.
Other witnesses will be questioned today.

The case probably will be given to the county grand jury within a few days.

HINTED BROWN WAS MENTALLY DERANGED

(Exclusive Dispatch)
SAN DIEGO, June 24.—Lieut.
Ervin R. Brown apparently was mentally deranged from the time he disappeared from his ship when he was picked up in San Francisco, a period of about a week, according to testimony heard when the naval court-martial which is trying the former paymaster on charges of desertion and embellishment resumed its hearing here this morning.

Mrs. S. H. Richardson, proprietor of a rooming-house in San Francisco where Brown was believed to be days, said he was known at the house as "Mr. Wilson" and that he complained of terrible dreams and manifested a dread of the supernatural. Other boarders, she said, expressed the opinion that Brown was "bughouse."

Duesenberg and Rolls-Royce Owners Endorse Union Non-Detonating Gasoline

"B. t. u." and Gasoline Quality

THE standard of efficiency in fuel is generally indicated by the number of B. t. u.
(British thermal units) in a given quantity of it.

But the quality of Union Gasoline, which shows a high count of B. t. u., goes beyond this limited designation.

The scientific reasons why could be explained only in a volume on the subject which no motorist would ever want to read.

Union is produced scientifically from the first through the last of the many processes through which it goes.

Union Gasoline has the quality of non-detonation which means the elimination of "knocking" on hills, and in slow, heavy pulls, quicker acceleration, and a smoother, more vibrationless speed.

When you use Union you know that you are getting the full benefit of a high quality, efficient motor fuel.

We Never Finish It

Union Gasoline is never considered a "finished article" in our research laboratory, for science is never at a standstill and scientists in our employ are always seeking to improve this gasoline.

As good as it is today, it will be superior next week if a better way to make it is found tomorrow.

We devote an entire building to this research work which never will be finished.

PARIS DAY BY DAY Citroen

BY RAYMOND G. CARROLL
(By Cable—Exclusive Dispatch)

(Copyright, 1934, Public Ledger.)
PARIS, June 24.—It is impossible to be an hour in Paris without seeing Citroen. Citroen is quite happy to live with his wife on the uppermost floor of a handsome apartment at 31 Rue Octave Feuillet, from which he can see only the top of the trees of the Bois de Boulogne.

In fact, Citroen is a cosmopolitan gentleman untouched by eccentricities either of mind or manner. He occasionally plays lawn tennis, although his favorite exercise is walking, a jaunt of fifteen or twenty miles being nothing to him. If he has any hobby at all it is desert picnicking.

Next to his business Citroen loves the great Sahara, and next December will be down there for a month. He is now erecting six small, electrically-lighted hotels of twenty-four rooms each at the many oases along the sand route from Colomb-Béchar, the southern terminus of the Algerian railway, to Timbuktu, "the meeting point of the camel and the caravan."

He proposes to be host to 400 paying guests on a seven-day trip across the desert in his four-seated caterpillar cars. The "iron camels" are built to master snow or desert, and have a speed of twenty-five miles an hour in the Sahara.

Citroen would not talk with us until we had accepted the escort of his lieutenant, Victor Vandin, and tramped the twenty buildings of his main plant at Javel. It was a miniature Ford plant with some additional wrinkles characteris-tically French.

It stands on the site of historic gardens, which swept the left bank of the Seine for several centuries.
Later these gardens became the location for the manufacture of soda ash, which business is now at the town of Domat-sur-Merthe, and again became gardens until their acquisition by Citroen for the manufacture of shells at the commencement of the World War.

"Now that you have seen this part of my plant I will answer your question," said Citroen, smiling across his glass-topped desk in his private office. He works in the plainest of rooms.

We observed a photograph of himself and Henry Ford taken on his second trip to America last year. His previous trip was in 1915, when he was the head of a French syndicate that for eighteen years had manufactured gears. The only other objects of note in his office were testimonials from his agents, one a Victory statue in

BUDGET BEFORE JAPANESE DIET

(By Cable and Associated Press)
TOKYO, June 25.—The Imperial Diet met in extraordinary session this morning, the chief business being to deal with the supplementary budget for the fiscal year 1934-35.

This appropriates 342,013,000 yen, principally for earthquake reconstruction work, according to the figures of the finance department.
The supplementary budget, added to the regular working estimates of 1,347,178,000 yen, announced by the finance department at the opening of the fiscal year April 1, 1934, makes a total appropriation for the year of 1,689,191,000 yen.

The Home Office and Department of Communications together claim two-thirds of the total appropriation being allotted to reconstruction, the remainder being for other public works, including the improvement of the national highways and the construction of new roads.

The new budget is a result of the election of May 15, 1934, when the House of Representatives was re-elected for the first time since the disaster of the Great Kantoh Earthquake.

Kenjiro Ueda, minister of finance, said that the government was determined to carry out its policy of consolidating the national budget and reducing the national debt.

The supplementary budget, according to the finance department, will be used for the reconstruction of the earthquake-stricken areas.

TO SETTLE LONG STANDING BILL

Seventeen-Year-Old Account
Twixt U. S. and S. P.

Way Cleared for Adjustment of Imperial Claim

New Trade Paper; Gas Issue; School Bonds

Settlement of a claim growing out of the flooding of the Imperial Valley by the high waters from the Colorado River in 1906 is expected soon by Southern Pacific officials. The company is preparing to file documents with the Court of Claims in New York City to prove its right to reimbursement for its expenditures during the flood in accordance to the terms of a gentlemen's agreement entered into by Theodore Roosevelt, then President of the United States, and E. H. Harriman, who was head of the Southern Pacific at that time.

Way for the settlement of the claim, which has been before every session of Congress for seventeen years, was opened by a bill passed at the last session permitting the Court of Claims to pass upon the amount, but stipulating that the Southern Pacific share a part of the expense since some of its property was involved. The claim grew out of the Colorado River leaving its banks and overflowing the Imperial Valley of California. At the time Congress was not in session. There was but a single organization in that section that President Roosevelt believed would be able to construct quickly a dam to throw the river back into its old channel and out of the Imperial Valley. He wired to Mr. Harriman that he would see that the next Congress approved the expenditure.

The Southern Pacific undertook the job, created new quarries, and put in special work trains, some of them operating twenty-four hours a day, and in a comparatively short time they had the river back in its channel. According to the railroad's claim, it expended $2,000,000 in the work. As a part of the work was undertaken before the message from President Roosevelt, the original claim presented to Congress was for approximately $1,700,000.

This claim included transportation costs based on the prevailing rates, but which experts representing the government, contenting that the rates were too high. This difference caused the debt to drag for many years.

NEW GAS ISSUE
The Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation has applied to the Railroad Commission for authority to issue $5,000,000 of common capital stock to its present stockholders in proportion to their present holdings. The corporation has also filed a request with the commission for permission to issue $5,000,000 par value of its 6 per cent preferred stock at $90 per share with preference given to the present stockholders. The proceeds from the sale are to be used to pay in part the cost of additions, extensions and betterments to its plant and properties.

MORTGAGE VIEW
A new financial publication, "Commercial Mortgage Views," published by the Commercial Mortgage Company, has just made its appearance. The June issue, besides information to investors, contains an article on realty laws in California by Melville S. Fraser, with figures showing a comparison of the average gross rates of income earned by insurance companies on mortgages and stocks and bonds.

SCHOOL BONDS

LIFE SENTENCE
IN BOY MURDERGuillen Pleads Guilty to Poisoned-Wine DeathCharge of Attempting to Slay Wife DismissedYouth Said to Have Drunk Poison Meant for Her

Clasping a rowdy in his hands and with tears streaming down his face, Mack Guillen, 27-year-old clerk of Baldwin Park, yesterday pleaded guilty in Judge Hardy's court to a charge of murdering his brother-in-law, William Rivers, 14. Guillen waived time for sentence and was committed immediately to San Quentin penitentiary for life.

"I know I did wrong," said Guillen, as Judge Hardy pronounced sentence, "but I can only repent."

A charge of attempt to murder his wife, Mrs. Mary Guillen, was dismissed on motion of Dep. Dist. Atty. Jordan after a consultation with Deputy Public Defender Fulcher, counsel for Guillen.

Guillen was arrested following the death of his youthful brother-in-law last March. An inquest showed young Rivers died of the effects of poisoning. It was testified that the lad had drunk some poisoned wine which Guillen had prepared in an asserted attempt to murder his wife, of whom he was said to have been insanely jealous.

Guillen, according to Fulcher, intended to end his wife's life with the deadly wine and then to commit suicide. Both he and his wife were said to have lapsed into a state of unconsciousness after drinking the poisoned liquor, but both recovered.

SALESMAN ARRAIGNED

Department of Justice agents yesterday arrested Charles F. Bloomhuff, oil stock salesman and promoter, under indictment in a mail fraud charge in Arkansas. He was arraigned before United States Commissioner Long and gave $2500 bond to insure his appearance in Arkansas.

likewise announced to the commission that it will effect a cut in electricity now used for pumping water by installing gas engines. The Municipal Bureau of Power and Light notified Mr. Guillen that the city would not be able to obtain a cut in the use of electric signs and display lighting. Results of the drive were evident in downtown Los Angeles last night.

Favorable action toward a reduction of light now being used in and out of motion-picture houses in the city is expected to be taken at a meeting today of the Motion Picture Theater Owners' Association who meet with Mr. Guillen at 10 a.m.

A request was received at the commission headquarters yesterday from the Commandant of the Eleventh Naval District asking that the wireless station at Inglewood which broadcasts bearings to ships at sea be allowed to utilize its customary amount of power in the interests of safe navigation. Inglewood district, Mr. Guillen said, has been designated by the Edison Company to receive a cut in electric power during certain daylight hours. For the present this will be abandoned because of the request made in behalf of the wireless district in the area.

health department rules requiring the burial of a body within four days from the time of death, unless a special permit is obtained granting an extension of time. The department, he said, interprets a day to mean twenty-four hours, thus requiring burial within ninety-six hours of death.

Extension of time is sometimes asked in cases where postponement of burial is desired to enable relatives to come from long distances to attend the funeral. As to the matter of embalming, Dr. Powers said burial may be had with or without embalming. In the case of death from a communicable disease, such as diphtheria, burial is required within twenty-four hours.

RIGID GUN TEST

Battery Osgood, the latest long-range installations at Fort MacArthur, represent later developments in coast defense ordnance than the other 14-inch rifles on the post.

TESTS SATISFACTORY

Maj. Ruhlen and Partridge declared last night that the tests were entirely satisfactory, as were the proof firings earlier in the day of two new batteries of anti-aircraft guns just installed at Fort MacArthur. The bursting of shrapnel high in the air during these latter tests gave the operations a realistic touch.

Eight hundred National Guardsmen, representing the entire Coast Artillery Corps of the California National Guard, will arrive at Fort MacArthur on July 8 for the annual two weeks of training in the science of coast defense. It was announced yesterday by Maj. Ruhlen that the new 14-inch guns, 12-inch mortars and anti-aircraft batteries of the local coast defense will be put through a program of intensive training outlined for the State troops.

with a man about 4:30 a.m. to the house next door, where she was living. He names this man as John Doe co-respondent.

Monday morning, Faussette told interviewers he had gone with two friends to the house, that he had had to break in, causing such a commotion that neighbors gathered. George Home, captain of detectives, is said to have been summoned to the scene.

Faussette also charges his wife with threatening to poison him. The couple were married in Chicago in 1914, according to the complaint. They have no children.

In asking the court to rule there is no community property, Faussette declares his wife is an actress, capable of earning $100 a week in motion pictures, and that she is the heir to her mother's estate. He says there is no community property.

Faussette is a former motion-picture director and actor.

He is represented by Attorneys Verge and Cooney.

Protected His Trees

John Bryan of Riverside, O., swears that the great trees which forested his estate of 800 acres should never fall the victim of man's greed. He has been so certain of this that he has had his trees heavily rifled with spikes that would bring grief to the best steel saws.

SEIZE BOOKS IN

Five acres of ground for which had been paid some $65,000 and in the sale of which some $3,500,000 was to be derived. Since that time, it is understood, an additional fifty-two acres have been purchased at a price of approximately $1800 an acre and from which approximately $50,000 an acre was to be procured in its sale.

In the matter brought to his attention, Commissioner Ketter found that the difference between the cost and the gross sales of the land was distributed as follows: 25 per cent to the corporation on account of selling costs; 10 per cent reserved for perpetual care; and 65 per cent to Osborne and Fitzpatrick on account of profit and cost of property.

Statements by Osborne and Fitzpatrick in their sales campaign literature to the effect that both were men of experience in the development, management and operation of cemeteries was averred untrue by the commissioner.

AVERTED FALSE

Asserted promises on the part of the cemetery officials that a fund of $1,000,000 had been or was to be set aside for the development of the property were likewise averred false.

The commissioner's findings, in conclusion, set forth that promises were made of a resale on the burial lots within a period of from thirty to ninety days at a profit ranging from 100 to 150 per cent over the prices at which the property was originally purchased and that these promises were made with no intention of carrying them out, but with intent to deceive. The proposition was held out to prospective buyers. It was declared, before a second installment would be due on the original purchase, that the property would be resold, with the announced decision on the part of the commissioner to seize the books before Dist. Atty. Keyes with a request for immediate prosecution.

On April 16, last, it was announced that both parties had begun separate investigations into the affairs of the companies involved. An attempt at seizure of the Osborne-Fitzpatrick books on the part of the county grand jury failed, the books had been spirited from the offices at night. Since that time the investigation has been quietly continued until its climax of yesterday.

It is expected that more than three weeks' time will be consumed in the examination of the books by the Federal officials.

knowledge of the unmarried women no matter how old. Girls were never wiser than in this generation," she said.

Much interest was manifested in the statements of Miss Jane Humphrey, who continued the discussion in the auditorium.

"Why is it a disgrace to go to the Juvenile Court?" challenged Miss Humphrey, "and an honor to go to the divorce court? Ah, I tell you women that there are lots of places to put the bad girl who may later go to the divorce court but for the young girl not bad who has perhaps been found doing a legitimate errand at night and sent to the Juvenile Court there is no place for such to go and she is disgraced. It is all wrong."

The speaker called upon her audience to work for such girls and told of the one home established by the Business and Professional Women's Club in this city where 150 girls have been saved in the last few months.

Others who spoke in the symposium included Mrs. J. D. Cahill, speaking on "Education for the Girl," and Miss Charlotte M. Davis on "Girls Work of the Y.W.C.A."

"CITIZENSHIP DAY"

Today is called "Citizenship Day" of the convention and the chief speaker will be Rev. Frederic Bledsoe, D. D., Loyola University, Chicago, who will speak on "The New Citizenship" at 3 p.m. in the clubhouse.

The address of yesterday afternoon was delivered by Joseph Scott, whose subject was "Education and the Home."

If your children or any one of them is a failure, you are a failure," was his unequivocal beginning. "Obedience to lawful authority is the crying need of the day among the youth of America."

And so I speak for the old-fashioned, fossilized home if you please, where the father and the mother are even elder-fashioned than the home, being bound together in sickness and in health, in riches and in poverty until death do them part."

Mr. Scott went on to review the four Jeffersonian principles of education which he said were the foundation of the country, namely: "To adore God, to revere and cherish parents, to love thy neighbor as thyself and to save your country better than yourself."

"You need not worry about the church nor the welfare of our country if you do your part in the home," the speaker concluded.

TELLS OF BLIND AID

Miss Irene O'Neill, California chairman of the International Federation of Catholic Women Alumnae, bureau of the blind, reviewed the work among the blind.

Miss Sara Laughlin of the White Williams Foundation of Philadelphia, the only parish school counselor in the United States, told her work in Philadelphia, redeeming the lives of little children and the older ones who were abnormal or subnormal.

Last night Rev. John M. Cooper, Ph. D. of the Catholic University of Washington, D. C., addressed the convention on "Laisure, an Asset or a Liability," and the musical program was given by G. Allan Hancock, cellist; Albert Angermayer, violinist, and Elfrida Angermayer, pianist.

Mrs. A. H. Stuckey, president of San Diego county, presided.

months and every time I come back I see an improvement." It was then he confessed he had been looking for drunks ever since January, only finding three. "And they didn't stagger. If I hadn't been looking for them I wouldn't have known they were drunk," he said.

William H. Anderson, the former Anti-Saloon League worker, was briefly characterized as sincere, but indiscreet. "That case is not finished," he said.

He declared the recent closing of most of the cabarets, which have made the "roaring forties" the nucleus of pleasure-seeking visitors to New York, was justifiable, if it was necessary to give the Eighteenth Amendment a square deal. He said that apparently the move was necessary.

Reminded that Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, had recently declared that prohibition enforcement has been a failure, John exploded.

"Nick is full of prunes. He is the only college president in the country to take this attitude. And remember, he is one of some 200."

BACK TO ORIENT

Mr. Johnson is speaking in California on "The Cross and the Crescent." This refers to the Christian religion and the Moslem religion. Also to the common agreement of the two on the subject of prohibition.

Recently the dry worker made a tour from Capoterra to Cairo where he gathered material for his lecture. He will return to Egypt where his Southern California speaking tour is completed. Then probably he will go to Turkey and Persia, he said.

Last night Johnson spoke at Santa Monica. Tonight he will speak at the San Fernando High School. Then he will go to Riverside and Redlands, returning here to speak Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Bible Institute, Anaheim. In July and San Diego will be visited. He will then go to New York. He will sail from there July 26.

JOHNSON KEEPS
DUTYNESS OF WORLD

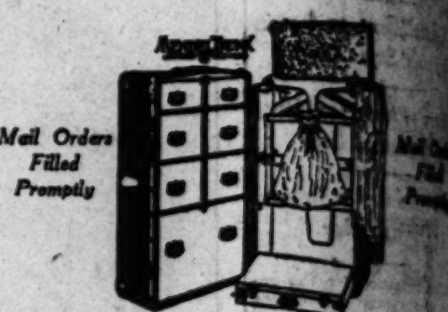

SANTA MONICA, June 24.—World-wide prohibition is nearer than national prohibition was in the United States fifteen years ago, W. E. "Pussyfoot" Johnson told an audience last night at the First Presbyterian Church.

The dry crusader bases his belief, he said, on conditions found on his recent world trip. "The United States started something, he said, that promises to spread throughout the world."

In addition to praising the effects of prohibition in this country, "Pussyfoot" scored newspapers who "play up" stories of dry-law violations and enforcement laxities.

"Before prohibition," he said, "when a man went home drunk and beat his wife no mention was made in the press. It was too common place. Now, seek after the unusual, the newspapers print sensational stories about such occurrences. They do it because it is the unusual. That is news."

Johnson appeared under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League. He was introduced by Rev. W. E. Cornett. Dr. Louis Banks, nationally known dry worker, made a short talk in which he hailed

THE DAY WE CELEBRATE
 Calvin Coolidge was born on July 4. It is dead easy for Americans to celebrate the anniversary of their Chief.

THE MIX-UP
 What is all this talk about making a matched team out of a donkey and a dark horse? Not much chance of a runaway, but neither would there be any pulling together.

SMOOTH BORE
 One of the wells on Signal Hill has already produced more than 1,500,000 barrels of high-gravity oil. A bore like that is not a bad thing to have in the family.

THE WISE GUY
 The man who recently married his mother-in-law puts a bad crimp in an ancient joke, but incidentally he is keeping a good thing in the family and that is what counts.

MAKING A HIT
 An Ohio college youth who is studying for the ministry made four home runs in four trips to the plate in a recent baseball game in which his class team was involved. When he gets to the pulpit he should be able to solve all the problems of delivery.

THE MAGICIAN
 Candidate McDade also told the New Yorkers that if he were elected President he would remove every grifter from government employ. He talks as if this were a simple process—much like snapping the fingers. He would tack a little notice on the Capitol and the next morning Washington would be rid of all graft. He should be a wonder at extracting rabbits from a plug hat.

THE OPENING GUN
 Gen. Charles Gates Dawes will make his first campaign speech in Lincoln, Neb., which was the scene of his first mannish adventures when he left college. The candidate is a citizen of three States. He was born in Ohio and still has a home at Marietta. He began his active career in Nebraska and is now an Illinois banker. Incidentally, he is loved and respected wherever he is known.

THE SMITH ROUND-UP
 Friends of Gov. Alfred Emmanuel Smith aver that the Smith family holds the balance of power in eleven doubtful States. If Al can round up a full proportion of the Smith vote friends would claim his election. It is urged with some heat that, although the Smiths are the most prolific family in America, they have never had a Presidential nominee. The nearest approach to the throne was when Grover Cleveland took Hoke Smith into his Cabinet and at that time the appointment was whispered to be a hoax myth. Now it is asserted that the hour has come for the Smiths to hold together. But can the wet Smiths, the dry Smiths and the black Smiths be herded under one tent?

OPEN OPPORTUNITIES
 In connection with the Franklin High School greeting to its doughty oratorical champion the assertion was made by the principal that the career of Don Tyler was incontestable proof that all the royal opportunities are not pre-empted. There are millions of them yet in the making. This is nothing but the truth. Any youth may pick up a fountain pen or a wrench and go forth to a glory as great as that which glides the name of Napoleon. There are opportunities lurking beneath the next football. It is a crime to say that all things have been accomplished. Rewards in business, in science, in art and in letters are waiting around the corner.

PICTURES BY WIRELESS
 The French folk have transmitted halftone photographs by radio for instantaneous development. The extension of this process seems certain. Arrangements are now being made for overseas experiments in this line. It is believed that in a short time it will be a simple matter to transfer a photograph from London to Los Angeles by radio. Our scientists are working with speed and direction to that end. Television will enable the eye to penetrate all distances. The day may come when men at opposite poles may sit at ease and talk with one another by radio—catching the twinkle of the eye as readily as the twist of speech. This is a funny old world—with new wonders ever in the making.

THE BRYAN FUZZLE
 Col. Bill Bryan furnishes some of the guessing in the Democratic convention. Some time ago he said that Prof. A. A. Murphy of Gainesville, Fla., was the best man in America for the office of President. Later he was reported as offering his support to the prospective candidacy of Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy. As a delegate to the convention from Florida Bryan is expected to vote with his associates for William Gibbs McAdoo. But there is his brother, Charles W. Bryan, who is pressed for the Presidency by the delegates from Nebraska and would seem entitled to the family support. To complete the cycle there is always William Jennings Bryan himself. The puzzle is: What will Col. Bryan be doing on the thirteenth ballot?

FOR BETTER OR WORSE

Reading the Paris dispatches one gains the impression that the French electorate is shaken and a little frightened at the result of its own work. The recent elections sealed the fate of the Millerand-Poincare government and of the "sacred union." Poincare and Millerand are out. Herriot and Doumergue are in; and the electorate is concerned lest it has fled from lesser evils to greater ones.

Herriot is officially known as a Radical-Socialist; and the comments in the foreign press indicate that these terms have different meanings in other countries than those applied to them in France. A bear movement on the Paris Exchange, with foreigners selling heavily, discloses a fear on the outside that the new government will tend toward Communism. In fact, Herriot has announced policies that in either England or America would be termed conservative. But he suffers for the ill repute in these countries of the parties he represents.

Doumergue is the first Protestant to be chosen as the President of the French Republic; and a large part of France is still Catholic at heart. France is far from the days of the revocation of the Edict of Nantes, but the Huguenot prejudice still lingers. There is more discussion and controversy in the French press over the religious belief of the new President than over his policies.

That religious considerations should not have been regarded in the selection of a President conforms strictly to democratic tradition. The church and state are separated in France, as in our own country, and no one is barred from holding office because of his religious belief. But a large part of the French press is now asking how it came that more definite information concerning the religious creed of the new President was not supplied the public before he was elected.

Premier Herriot has already offended the militarist party by advocating a renewal of the Franco-British Entente. Under the Poincare government this entente existed in name only. He never held a personal conference with a British Premier and he not infrequently denounced the policies and diplomacy of the British government. Herriot, on the other hand, is profuse in his expressions of good will for the British Premier. His first act after organizing his government was to request a conference. This was held on Saturday, when the two Premiers met at Chequers to discuss diplomatic relations.

One result of the conference was the announcement that the two Premiers would attend the next session of the Assembly of the League of Nations. They agree that the questions now dividing Europe are too vast in their scope for any single government to decide. They are willing to submit the question of reparations to the League; and Herriot expresses a hope that the League will give guarantees which will enable the French government to withdraw the troops now occupying the Ruhr.

President Doumergue's first official act was to celebrate his elevation to the Presidency by signing several hundred pardons and reprieves. He exercised what was once a royal prerogative in opening prison doors as an evidence of good will. But some dissatisfaction has been expressed by the opposition because the greater part of the pardons and the reprieves went to Germans who had been condemned by councils of war in the occupied districts. It is regarded as a reversal of the policy of the Poincare government.

From this distance it appears that the new government is starting well. It has relaxed the European tension and has caused threatening clouds to fade. It has not begun by rattling the saber, as did the Poincare government. But one wonders in reading the mass of hostile criticism in the French press how long it can last. It is by acts and not by party appellations that the new government will be judged outside France. If it is just and liberal in its policies, if it strives sincerely to restore the peace of Europe, it will deserve the confidence and support of all friends of France, whether it be called Radical-Socialist or Reactionary.

THE SOCIAL SIDE

Delegates to the Democratic National Convention are expected to combine pleasure with business. The New Yorkers are at unusual pains to provide all the forms of entertainment that visitors from the back counties are presumed to enjoy. Of course, Gotham is largely in the amusement business and an army of citizens gain their livelihood by whooping things up for the stranger, but on this occasion the entire city is concerned in the program and the Democratic visitors are urged to enjoy themselves to the full.

Among other things provided by the New Yorkers for their guests, according to discoveries by the alert correspondent, are gratuitous dancing lessons and free afternoon teas. This is along the idea of giving the careless citizens from the wilds of Arkansas a glimpse of modern society in the cities. In the old days the Missourians would drink their beer out of a rubber boot in a bowery gamin, but now they sit behind lace curtains and sip their cooling while the saxophones are moaning "Baby Mustn't Bite Her Sweetie."

The free dancing lessons are a good advertisement. The delegates from the Dakotas and the Carolinas learn to juggle their feet in some of the new steps and when they get back home they extend themselves in musical circles and go hunting for lights and girls. Instead of hunting trouble with a gun the new knight is courting romance with a well-thumbed ukulele.

In providing ample amusement for the Bourbon hosts Gotham is deserving of praise. This is the first huge political convention the city has ever had and to that extent it is a new sensation to the natives. Of course, there have been great gatherings of many kinds, but this is in a class by itself.

CHIVALRY

So now the popular actress, through her attorney, is denying the little chaffeur his "chivalry."

The suggestion that he "chivalrously" declined to go on the stand "for fear he would hurt Mabel" is laughably repudiated. His refusal to testify "means nothing" as far as she is concerned. In fact, it is pretty obvious that supercilious chivalry is little more than a fair dandy who doesn't need protecting is too utterly disgusting.

Nevertheless, it did seem decent of the chaffeur not to testify. There must have been a good deal he wanted to say. Whereas the verdict as it stands, excepting the chivalry, appears to be highly satisfactory to all concerned. It might have embarrassed the lady if the taxi knight had been

JUSTICE AND BUSINESS
 Certain public utilities have made application to the Railroad Commission of California for readjustment of their rates for light and power, asserting that a contingency has arisen which justifies a higher price to the consumer. The application will be heard in a judicial way and all parties interested will receive ample opportunity to produce evidence to sustain their contention. The old-time elements of bias and prejudice will not influence whatever judgment may be ultimately rendered by the commission.

The most humble citizen and the wealthiest corporation stand side by side on an equal footing; the one does not fight money and the other does not fight prejudice. The commission is neither a friend nor an enemy of either of the parties before it; it is the representative of every interest in the State, individual and corporate. The judgment in the case will be determined by the facts.

The Railroad Commission has heard and determined approximately 35,000 cases since its reorganization in 1911. They have involved every business question that could possibly interest the people as a whole. The result of this wide experience is a commission fully competent to handle public questions with that degree of justice not obtainable always in the courts of law. Its judgments are not based upon bias, prejudice or any of the varied factors of human nature that sometimes balance the scales of justice in other courts. It knows down to the last dollar the cost of producing and delivering to a customer 1000 kilowatts of light or 1000 horsepower of energy. If conditions of any kind justify a rise or decrease in costs the proper order will be made and enforced, although it may not please either the utility or the consumer.

The sound business judgment and fairness of the California Commission could be no better illustrated than by calling attention to the great development of the light and power industry in this State, a development that has added hundreds of millions of dollars to our taxable wealth as well as comfort and convenience to more than 2,000,000 citizens. But an asset of more value than kilowatts or dollars is the final establishment of a court of justice and business to which the people of the State can go and be confident that they will be heard and awarded every right that belongs to them. These facts are known in other States and are investment centers from which have come the millions that have helped to make Los Angeles the great white spot on the business map of the nation.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

Creating Disension is the Game. Dr. Karl Radek and George Zinovieff, so-called commissars, were highly pleased, we are assured, when reports from America showed a substantial growth in the Communist Youth League movement in the United States. Radicalism has always had some sort of an appeal to the young and unsophisticated. It is sometimes a desire to be sensational and other times it is a plain case of misguidance with the young people. But it modifies itself with mature years. It modifies itself especially when Red tactics emerge from their underground and intriguing seclusion and come in the open with bloodshed, terror and dictatorship bind them to the country. But Britain is reality and not merely theory. Revolution, fighting in the streets, jail sentences, massacres have a sort of cooling effect. Zinovieff gave orders to propagate the faith more diligently among the negroes in America.

Britain in the Pacific
 The London Times, greatest newspaper in the world, sees the coming of a mighty conflict in the Pacific. It makes this editorial declaration following the difficulties that have arisen over the Japanese exclusion in the United States. It adds that the situation may be smoothed over for the present, but that greater crises will appear in the future. It is a friend of both the United States and Japan. Its task is obvious. It is unthinkable that the British would on any occasion side with the Japanese in any armed conflict. Inalienable ties of race and language, culture and civilization bind them to this country. But Britain may assume the office of intermediary, a promoter of international good will and understanding. A war between America and Japan would cause uncalculable damage. Common sense and Britain's position should avert it.

RIPPLING RHYMES
THE FLIES

Again I rise to swat the flies, with unexampled fury; by my deities they cease to be, I am the judge and jury. My swatter grand I keep in hand and use it every second, and every day the flies I slay by countless scores are reckoned. My friends applaud; with back and nod they smile upon my labors; I get the praise of all the jays who are my near-by neighbors. "The work you do," they say, "keraboo, inspires us all and pleases, for every fly that falls to die spreads germs of foul diseases. And every fly, before July, would have ten million daughters and sons to burn, so let us learn, like you, to play our swatters." But now and then, while in my den, the swatter at a distance, strange thoughts arise—have not the flies a right to their existence? They're happy things; on gauzy wings they whirl around, so joyous; and doubtless they, all blithe and gay, aren't planning to annoy us. If they repose upon my nose they have no fierce intention; why do I croak the little folk with murderous invention? I do not slay the mules that bray around my lowly dwelling; I do not kill the cats that will keep up their midnight yowling. I take no ax to swat the yaks and geese and hens and cattle that hoot and howl and grunt and growl until the windows rattle. WALT MASON.

THIS IS THE DAY

The Custer massacre—battle of the Little Big Horn, Montana—was fought in the year 1876. Gen. George A. Custer, in command of the United States forces in the Sioux Indian War of 1874-1877, with 277 cavalrymen attacked the confederated Indian encampment on the Little Big Horn River. Through a fatal mistake he was not supported by the other divisions of his force, his troop was surrounded by an overwhelming force of Indians and after three hours' battle every man of the 278 was slain. In 1879 the battle ground was made a national cemetery.

FEROCIOUS GAME ON THE ORINOCO DELTA

BY RANSOME SUTTON

The Orinoco empties through nine channels, only the southernmost of which is open to navigation. We wanted to ascend the Federnales branch, closed to ships by a sand bar across the mouth, and had to charter a sloop. It was manned by six mestizos, who wore rings in their ears, hands around their ankles and wrists and short skirts belted round their loins. For the Ocean King and her crew I paid $8 a day, plus the cost of brown sugar, salt pork and beans for the six mestizos. The sugar was wanted to make sweetened water, which they regarded both as food and drink. It took a night and a day to sail across the eighty-mile-wide Gulf of Paria.

We crossed the bar and entered the Federnales just as the sun rose. Behind the mangroves on the banks towered the dense, evergreen jungle, filled with trees seldom seen outside of greenhouse. Long-legged birds waded in and out of the mangroves, while flocks of gorgeous-colored birds, including parrots and macaws, screamed overhead.

We anchored off a small village, consisting of a row of mud huts on the eastern bank—the only settlement on the entire delta. There is probably no wilder region on the earth today and here, if anywhere, one would expect to find ferocious beasts. The beasts exist in large numbers, but they are not ferocious, for the worst of them turned tail at sight of us. You cannot walk a mile without seeing a jaguar; but, unless cornered or wounded, they give man the right of way. These enormous cats, said to be the most powerful felines known, live almost entirely in the trees. Their ferocity extends itself on creatures lower than man. Dogs, for example, have to be shut up at night to keep them from being carried off. I came upon a female jaguar followed by her kittens; she bared her teeth, but slunk away.

Now as to alligators and crocodiles, you have to make sure a log is a log, otherwise it is liable to give you a death rattle. The alligator's tail is much more deadly than the jaws. Of all man-eaters alligators are least dangerous. They are stupid, slow runners and they sleep most of the time. I saw a 12-year-old Federnales boy capture one. The alligator was lying on the mud bank with its tail in water, sound asleep. Into its wide open mouth all kinds of insects were creeping, becoming stuck like flies on tanglefoot paper. When the mouth membranes became coated the gaping jaws would close and open again.

The little naked boy took a spindle-shaped stick, sharpened at both ends, to which a long vine was attached and crawled close up to the open mouth. Holding the spindle upright in one hand he shoved the length of his arm into the mouth, let go and took to his heels. The first snap of the jaws pinned them together and, as one end of the vine was tied to the pin and the other end to a tree, the monster found himself caught.

Pythons, or boa-constrictors, are more dangerous, if you venture in.

Electric eels are about as big as some of the fish. Some are eight feet long and weigh fifty pounds. They have the eel is tall, on each side of the head a long electric organ and being positively and negatively charged. If the eel bends round your leg it will charge about through you. Upon you because you are just as good as dead.

SAPPY ENDINGS

BY LEE SHIFFEY
 A local writer the other day received this letter from the editor of a New York magazine:

"Sir—We are returning this manuscript with regret. It is interesting and well written. But we hardly think our readers would care for this ending. If you care to remodel it, give it a happy ending, we shall be glad to look at it again."

What makes American magazine editors and film editors and play producers so sure that the American public insists on happy endings? They cannot prove it by the foreign books we are helping to make famous—such, for instance, as Conrad's "Lord Jim" and "Victory." Nor can they prove it by the history of American literature.

Hawthorne was ready enough to touch us with infinite pathos. Poe with horror and despair. In more recent years and in the short story—the vehicle in which happy endings are most often insisted on—George W. Cable, Henry James, Page and Richard Harding Davis gave their greatest work in narratives full of heartache—and people still read them gladly.

One familiar with the contents of popular magazines and their editors' letters can easily imagine one like this:

"Mr. Nathaniel Hawthorne, Sir: Your 'Scarlet Letter' has good stuff in it—don't you know? It's a really quite a good picture, though we haven't time to look that up. But it is out of the question as a serial for our magazine. A lot of the graphic, gripping stuff which happened before you begin your story might help it out. And you don't show your preacher up in the way Mr. Wright would, for instance. But don't be discouraged. It shows promise. And worse stories have been published. Cordially,

"THE COSMOS."

Or one like this:

"Mr. E. A. Poe, Sir: We wish you would read our magazine carefully before submitting material to us. While we like detective stories, we want them not only with a punch, but with a little Judy. Too. Your 'Murders in Rue Morgue' are too gruesome."

"SLEUTH STORIES."

Or this:

"Mr. J. F. Cooper, Sir: Yes, we like Indian stories, full of war-whoops and two-gun men. But we're not interested in your over-cheerful and happy, though blood-thirsty, readers anything as dismal as 'The Wept of Wish-ton-Wish'—if we recall the title correctly. We didn't read the yarn side their lairs. They will chase or run from man, one being that, for about ten years every year, their eyesight is poor to distinguish one animal from another. Right after shedding their skin they see clearly, because the dead scales over their eyes shed with the skin. But as the scales form vision is obscured. When you think a python is trying to charm you with its eyes you are looking at lidless disks of scales, through which all creatures look more or less alike. By staring too steadily upon the uncanny goggles you may hypnotize yourself and fall an easy victim, but the snake itself exercises a fascinating power. Nor is the poisonous. If it throws a snake around your body you are a gnat, unless you have enough power of mind left to do as the snake does—puncture the constricting coils with a knife. There is plenty of time; it took a large box snake to strangle a peacock to death, although the peacock is larger around than the box, the box stretched its elastic throat to its victim—slowly engulfed it.

The wild dogs are about as vicious as wolves. If starting they might attack man, but wild dogs never need be hungry on the delta. Although afraid of man, they are low hunters about as if speckled. One pack stalked me one afternoon, stopping when I stopped, but never once showed signs of attacking me.

I know it is possible for a man to walk through these jungles, which are really uncaged men, without being attacked by anything worse than mosquitoes, provided he keeps out of alligator holes and the lairs of man-eaters. In the hot, seething water, however, you will find genuine ferocity. To bathe in the Orinoco is dangerous business, for many of the crocodiles of all are the saw-toothed rathas. Alligators are protected from them by their armor, but a crack in the armor affords an opening for attack. The most common battle I ever witnessed took place between a wounded alligator and a school of piranhas. Around a fish water boiled, for the piranhas attacked from all sides. The man who whipped the boiling water with its tail, swallowed and ground, the murder fish fed upon it in the end.

Electric eels are almost as deadly. Some are eight feet long and weigh fifty pounds. Four-fifths of the eel is tail, on each side of which is a long electrified organ, and being positively and the other negatively charged. If this charge shoots through you, you bend round your body a stunner, upon you became round the Orinoco.

Delta is the richest left upon earth. It is easily accessible, the trip doesn't cost much, yet the hunters go to Africa for every thing that visits the delta. Jaguar hunting is quite as thrilling as any hunting, but to hunt jaguars is a most deadly and dangerous business, as one end of a jaguar is to be from being devoured by another. Otherwise, jaguar hunting on the delta is not much more dangerous than rabbit hunting in the forests.

after we struck that word "wild" the title. We advise you to be plumbings, Mr. Cooper, for you are the main idea of modern literature. Candidly.

"WILD WEST YARN"

WHEN I WAS GOD I dreamed that I was God. And, from my radiant throne, I looked up in heaven. Upon a world of sorrow I looked down.

Poor, darkened star! I meant, this the world I meant should be so fair and bright of joy?

My heart grew heavy in me and wept.

And down upon the waiting earth, my tears, from heaven, fell. Like pearly showers, from heaven, fell. Then, when my eyes were closed, I looked again—

And, lo! a blessed world of joy at me!

Beautiful was my earth—no more dark and fear. Like guilty shadows, creep away and die. No need was there for healing hands. For every child of mine was strong and strong. With conscious power their hands grew brave. And courage never failed in kind.

Up from the desert dust rose blossoms sprang. While every vale and mountain fruitful grew. And hunger was no more in all the world. Death came no more to man. Heart nor bird—

And even sorrow knew eternal rest. Under the stars the bleeding wounds dreamed. Till sunbeams came to dry the tears of joy. And I was drunken with their fumed praise.

All men were faithful and all were pure. All words were angels and all speech was song. In peace all nations dwelt; all were kings—

And each king ruled the realm of his own mind. The only rivalry in all the world was every man's attempt to be most kind.

Then, on a sudden, I awoke from sleep. To find myself a happy dreamer. Of Him I had imagined was my God. And yet (who knows?) perhaps I was a man. Dreaming I am a man!

He was born at Fond Du Lac, Wis., August 8, 1874, educated at the Northwest University of that State, and was graduated from Keokuk Medical College in 1908. Following his graduation he went abroad and took post-graduate work in Berlin. After coming to Los Angeles in 1902 he gave up the practice of his profession and was associated with the H. J. Whitley Jewelry Company and later was one of the first contractors and builders to erect houses and bungalows in Hollywood. From 1904 until the time of his death he was interested in real estate, and in 1922 planned Carthay Center. During the San Diego Exposition he had charge of the advertising, and edited the Grant Hotel Magazine.

Dr. Raven had been superintendent of the subdivision apartment of Robert Marsh & Co. for several years, and was a member of the City Planning Commission. He leaves a widow, Lillie T. Raven, of 2515 1/2 Romeo street. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Raven, live at Fond du Lac, Wis. The interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery, 6000 Santa Monica Boulevard.

Liner to Hawaii Will Give Radio Bills on Voyage

What is declared to be the largest entertainment radio ever installed aboard an ocean-going liner is today tuning in on Southland concerts aboard the giant liner City of Los Angeles as she sails from Honolulu with members of the Chamber of Commerce excursionists aboard.

The radio set, a superheterodyne, was built and installed by J. M. Bohmer, Southland radio expert, just before the liner sailed last Saturday, and it is expected will be able to pick up KFI and other large Los Angeles stations while the liner is docked in Honolulu harbor. Tests made prior to the installation at Los Angeles Harbor picked up messages in the East and it is thought little difficulty will be experienced in tuning in on Los Angeles.

THE NEW SET HAS NO CONNECTION with the ship's regular radio and is installed in the music salon. It will be used purely for entertainment purposes and is expected to keep the passengers informed on mainland news as well as provide an addition to the two orchestras being carried by the liner in furnishing practically twenty-four-hour musical program.

CANADIAN IS SENTENCED. Regis F. Grimmet, a Canadian, was sentenced by Federal Judge Bledsoe yesterday to serve ninety days in the Orange County Jail after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of importing an alien woman from Vancouver to Los Angeles for immoral purposes. The woman, Lena Carabash, will be returned to Canada as an undesirable citizen.

BRIDE HELD IN ARSON CASE

Plumber Who Confessed Setting Blaze to Win Her Love Changes Story; Mate Also Hunted

A complaint charging arson was issued yesterday by the District Attorney's office against Mrs. Edna Frances Walden, her husband, Clarence B. Walden, and Martin Colson, the latter of whom last week confessed setting fire to the Walden home at 330 West One Hundred and Tenth street in an asserted attempt to win the love of Mrs. Walden, a bride of a few months.

Mrs. Walden was arrested yesterday by Deputy County Fire Warden Kennedy and Thompson and subjected to a severe examination as to what she knew of the burning of her home. She was being held in the County Jail in lieu of $5000 bond. The deputies declined to reveal what they had learned concerning the fire from Mrs. Walden, but intimated startling developments in the unusual case may soon be expected.

Colson, a plumber, last week confessed to County Fire Warden Flintham that he had set fire to the home of the Waldens as part of a scheme to win the favor of Mrs. Walden, with whom, he said, he had become infatuated. Since his "confession" Colson is said to have changed his story three times. It was stated yesterday by the District Attorney's office that Colson now denies having set the fire and has given a new version of the case which involves Mrs. Walden and her husband.

Deputies from the Fire Warden's office were dispatched yesterday to the Mexican border in an attempt to locate Walden, who disappeared shortly after the burning, the 11th ward, the officers said they had learned that Mrs. Walden had driven her husband to San Diego shortly after the fire and that he had left her there, returning to Los Angeles. Mrs. Walden was arrested yesterday at the home of her mother in Hollywood.

Colson first told Warden Flintham he fell in love with Mrs. Walden when he called at the home to install some plumbing fixtures. He said he conceived the scheme of burning the house as a part of a plan to reduce the Walden family to such a state of poverty that Mrs. Walden would be glad to accept his favors.

Officer Beaten by Rum Runners Now Recovering

Patrick Mahoney, member of the District Attorney's dry squad, was recovering at his home yesterday from the effects of a harrowing experience he said he suffered at the hands of a gang of rum runners near Malibu. Mahoney staggered into the Venice Police Station early yesterday suffering from cuts and bruises on his face, several broken ribs, and clad only in trousers. He said he had worked himself loose from bonds that had bound him to a tree near Malibu, to which he had been tied last Friday after being beaten severely by rum runners while unloading liquor. Mahoney said they escaped in his automobile.

Malibu was removed to his home yesterday after he was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

SHOT TO AID WOMAN

Albert Hunt Tells Court He Fired in Defense of Partner. That he shot in defense of his partner, Mrs. Lola Geary, was the testimony of Albert Hunt in Justice Forbes' court yesterday at his hearing on a charge of assault on E. A. Hartwick. Hartwick was wounded in the leg and hand. Hunt said he and Mrs. Geary were proprietors of a stand and that Hartwick had been following and annoying her for some time. On the day of the shooting, Hunt said, Hartwick approached the stand, talking roughly and placing his hand on his hip pocket.

The case will continue today. Hunt is prosecuted by Dep. District Attorney Murray and defended by John L. Richardson.

SMALL BOY CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDER CAR

Jack Thompson, 4 years of age, was crushed to death yesterday at Union and Ingraham streets when he fell beneath the rear wheel of a heavy sedan driven by E. J. Wagner, an employee of the Don Lee automobile agency. Wagner said the boy dashed out from the sidewalk, lost his footing in a sand-pit, struck the fender and rolled under the car so quickly he had no time to avoid the accident. The boy was taken to Receiving Hospital, where he died. Wagner was held on suspicion of manslaughter.

TWO HELD AS BURGLARS. Gus Graber, 22 years of age, and Morancy Carlson, 21, of 142 West Washington street, were held to answer yesterday by Justice Earl on two counts of burglary. They were declared to have stolen four radio sets valued at $1200.

Love Triangle is Asserted in Suit of Priest

Behind a common-place suit for the collection of a promissory note, there was revealed yesterday in Judge Archbald's court an asserted attempt of a man to provide money with which to send a husband out of the country so the man might make love to the husband's wife.

The case was that of Joseph Tonello, a Catholic priest, against Frank Pace for the collection of a note for $1000. Father Tonello testified he advanced in 1932 the money used for on Pace's note, due July 1, 1933. After he had made the loan, Father Tonello said, he learned that Pace wanted the money to send P. Rantuso out of the country. Father Tonello said he had been informed that Pace, said to be a married man and the father of seven children was in love with Mrs. Elvira Rantuso, wife of Rantuso.

Rantuso, who was in court yesterday, jumped up from his seat and denied that any such thing was true. Pace, set up the defense that he had tendered the note without consideration in connection with an agreement with Father Tonello, whereby the latter was to advance $1000 to Mrs. Rantuso, to be repaid later by her after she had sold some property. Pace stated Mrs. Rantuso had disposed of the property and was able to pay the note and that he was therefore freed of any obligation to Father Tonello.

Judge Archbald granted judgment for the plaintiff.

The proceeds of the picnic will go into the association's sick fund to be used in relieving postal workers who fall ill. A barbecue, canoe races, fireworks and a musical program have been arranged for the picnic.

CITY WORKER EXONERATED

Louis Konnick, a city employee, was exonerated and discharged yesterday by Justice Baird, after a hearing on a charge of indecent conduct made by Mrs. Florence Harrison of 301 North Figueroa street. Konnick is a member of the City Employees' Association and was defended by its attorney, H. T. Gibson.

14-year old Bobby Franks—a well-known Chicagoan kidnaped and murdered.

What sinister motive prompted two University Students ~ both sons of rich and prominent families ~ to kidnap and murder 14-year old Bobby Franks was it money?

Was it the desire for extreme sensation caused by the reading of erotic literature? Was it for adventure? Was it for ransom? Was it for excitement? Was it to taste "every experience in life?"

Was it due to the present-day freedom of youth? Was it due to higher education? Was it due to lack of intimate understanding between parents and children? Was it due to supreme egoism — an attempt to baffle the police and defy detection?

Two honor students from one of America's greatest universities, await trial for confessed kidnaping and murder.

A Complete Analysis of The Direst Murder in the History of Chicago

By GENEVIEVE FORBES

A detailed study of the Franks' case begins in this week's LIBERTY—Out Today!

What secret desires move the boy and girl approaching majority? What hidden thoughts impel them to seek new thrills—extreme sensations? What impulses stir them to an assumption of mental supremacy over their elders?

Has the influence of the home yielded to new attractions? Have the moral teachings of parents lost their power? Has the new freedom of the present-day youth become an alarming factor in American society?

In "The Direst Murder in the History of Chicago" Genevieve Forbes analyzes the secret thoughts and hidden emotions which impelled two honor students of one of America's largest universities—both sons of rich and prominent families—both surrounded with every comfort and luxury of wealth—to kidnap and kill the son of one of their millionaire neighbors.

Was it the desire to experience the sensations suggested by a study of erotic, psycho-analytical literature which prompted the deed? Was it the seeking of new thrills? Was it the brazen courage of an assumed mental supremacy which led the two youthful students to believe they could baffle the police and defy detection?

Was it the circle of wealth in which they moved that left nothing to be desired except the supreme excitement of murder?

No case in years has so greatly stirred men and women the nation over.

Is modern society at fault? Was higher education responsible? Was it due to a lack of understanding between parents and children? What should be done to regulate the thoughts and actions of the boy and girl of today?

Genevieve Forbes, one of the most celebrated reporters in America, has been on this case from the beginning. She dined with the prisoners on the evening after they confessed. She knows this story from the inside. She will tell what she knows clearly and without covering up.

Every father and mother—every son and daughter should read this detailed analysis. It is a study of importance to everyone interested in the rearing of the boy and girl to a high standard of American manhood and womanhood.

CITY PLAN TO BE TOLD TO POLICE

Hill Will Explain Regime to Chiefs' Convention

Vollmer to Send Aide East as Personal Envoy

Captain to Study System of Other Metropolises

The "Los Angeles plan" of police reorganization, as developed here by Chief of Police Vollmer, will be presented to the leading police officials of the world when the International Association of Chiefs of Police convenes in Montreal, Can., July 14.

The important features of Chief Vollmer's reorganization plan so far carried out in Los Angeles will be explained to the convention by First Deputy Chief of Police Hill, who leaves this morning as Chief Vollmer's personal representative, and the official delegate to the convention. Combined with the attendance at the convention will be a trip of inspection of the police departments and equipment of some of the leading cities in the country, Capt. Hill announced yesterday.

TO VISIT MANY CITIES

Capt. Hill, who was chosen by Chief Vollmer to represent him because of his close touch with the reorganization program and his grasp of the details involved, will read two papers before the convention.

The results achieved by Chief Vollmer in the actual remodeling of the Los Angeles police department and the creation of the Southern California Academy of Criminology will be the subject of the two discussions.

On the way to Montreal and back Capt. Hill will stop in St. Louis, Louisville, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland.

Campaign Workers Report $414,387 Raised for Building to House Service Men at Harbor

A total of $414,387.50 has been subscribed to date for the building of a home for Army and Navy men at the Harbor and for carrying on the work of the Young Men's Christian Association in Los Angeles and vicinity, according to announcement made at the Biltmore Hotel yesterday by R. H. Ballard, general chairman of the campaign to raise the largest subscription of any team in the "army," handing in subscriptions amounting to $1500.

A telegram was read from Rear Admiral C. S. Plunkett, commandant at the New York Navy Yard, heartily commending the efforts of the people of Los Angeles to erect a suitable social service building for the men of the Army and Navy.

"We do not want the people to get it into their minds that they are asked to contribute toward paying off mortgages of the Y.M.C.A. or that they are requested to pay the expenses of this campaign," said Mr. Ballard. "The debts of the Y and the campaign expenses have been taken care of by the directors of the Y.M.C.A. Every penny given to campaign solicitors will be employed entirely in constructive work."

officials of the East, most of them personal friends of Chief Vollmer, were given by the Chief to Capt. Hill to assure him every facility for the study of the police department of the cities visited.

Capt. Murray, veteran police captain of the force, will become acting first deputy Chief of police in the absence of Capt. Hill.

GIVEN GOLD BADGE

A token of friendship and appreciation of his work under Chief Vollmer was presented Capt. Hill by a large group of his friends Monday night in the form of a solid gold police badge. The badge is surrounded by an eagle made of platinum. Capt. Hill will take the badge with him.

FATHER STAYS IN JAIL FOR GIRL

Jean Lee Pylar

Thomas Pylar holds the County Jail record for stubbornness. Since March 3 last he has been behind the bars for refusal to tell the whereabouts of his daughter, Jean Lee Pylar, and though Judge Sumnerfield calls him into court periodically and questions him, his invariable answer is that, if released, he will produce the child in court.

Jail attendants are beginning to wonder how long he will hold out. Mrs. Elva M. Pylar sued for divorce in May, 1933, charging cruelty, and received a decree last August at a time when Pylar was in jail charged with assaulting her. When he got out he asked to have the decree set aside on the ground that he had been in jail and unable to defend the suit, and asserted his wife had caused his imprisonment for this very purpose. He also declared they were never legally married, as Mrs. Pylar's divorce from her first husband had never been made final.

In December she filed suit for annulment on the grounds asserted by Pylar, and got a decree annulling her child. In February, she asserted, Pylar took the little girl from her and refused to return her. When Pylar was held into court he declared he had sent the child to Arkansas and Judge Sumnerfield committed him for contempt.

DENOUNCES DEBTOR FOR RAILROADING

Judge Says Man Would Put Creditor in Asylum to Escape Obligation

Bitterly denouncing Elbert Wilcox as a man who would "railroad his creditor to the insane asylum in order to avoid payment of his debts," Judge Guerin of the Superior Court yesterday ordered the release from custody of Miss Mildred Joselyn, 20 years of age, after a hearing before the lunacy commission.

Miss Joselyn had been arrested on complaint of Mrs. Luella Wilcox, mother of the debtor. In her complaint Mrs. Wilcox charged that Miss Joselyn had repeatedly threatened to kill her son and had attempted to extort money from him.

Miss Joselyn, sobbing intermittently, was called to the witness stand. She stated that she met Wilcox in a bank where both of them were employed. They grew very friendly, she stated, and he borrowed $175 from her. The money, he told her, was to be used in bringing his mother here from the East. Miss Joselyn declared that she had made no threats against Wilcox but that she had merely asked that he repay the money he had borrowed from her.

Wilcox was then called to the stand. He was asked if Miss Joselyn had ever threatened him. He hesitated for a considerable time and then said: "Well, she cried a lot."

The court then asked what he had done with the money and Wilcox replied that he had used it to buy a suit and other apparel.

Judge Guerin, after hearing Wilcox's testimony, proceeded to give him one of the severest verbal lashings heard in court in some months. He ordered that Miss Joselyn be released at once and also instructed Wilcox to repay at once the money she had lent him.

Marriage Vows Taken in Police Court Set Aside

Charging that he was coerced into marrying Gertrude Bondurant against his will, Lonnie Bondurant yesterday was granted an annulment of his marriage by Judge Landis.

Bondurant asserted he and his wife were married January 13 last after they had been arrested together in a rooming-house. He stated the arresting officers informed him no charge would be filed against him if he would marry Mrs. Bondurant, but that if he failed to do so he would be sent to jail for at least 100 days.

Fearing jail, Bondurant said, he was married to the woman in Police Court. He declared he and his wife separated a few minutes later in the courtroom.

SLAIN MAN IDENTIFIED AS ROBBER BY VICTIM

Antonio Camille Avogadro, gunman shot to death by Deputy Sheriff Dewar in a revolver duel last Friday, was identified yesterday by Police Judge Crawford as the bandit who robbed him and Police Commissioner Birnbaum in a hold-up in front of Judge Crawford's home at 1927 West Twenty-first street on the night of the 11th inst. Justice Crawford identified the bandit at the Goddard & Martini mortuary.
